Outright Suspension Not Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House sources express doubt that President Nixon's executive order on the draft will halt inductions, even temporarily, although Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler indicates such a suspension has been considered.

"It doesn't seem to be in the cards," said one source.

Ziegler told newsmen Tuesday suspending the draft is among the factors being considered in formulating selective service reforms. But White House aides quickly said such a suspension is not an immediate prospect.

One source expressed surprise at speculation the draft might be suspended temporarily.

He said that although no final decisions have been made, the Nixon order is likely to be limited to reform of administrative procedures such as establishing uniform criteria for handling of deferments by draft boards.

Earlier Tuesday, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the acting Senate Republican leader, said after a White House meeting "there is a strong disposition to press for draft reform this year."

But he conceded the likelihood of congressional action is slim, and that the administration wants to spotlight the issue to show where the delay is.

The basic draft law runs until June 30, 1971, and there is a strong feeling on Capitol Hill that no new legislation will be passed much before then.

Service for draftees from 24 months to 18 months was introduced by Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio.

Young, a member of the Armed Services Committee, also called for reform of the entire draft system.

"It is absolutely and totally unfair, arbitrary and capricious to continue the present discriminatory system without adopting guidelines to achieve decency and fairness in operation of draft boards," he said.

The cornerstones of the Nixon program are proposals to reverse the present order of in-

Laird Says Draft Calls Will be Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird indicated today draft calls for the months ahead will be reduced as a result of the new troop reduction in Vietnam and an over-all 20,000-man cutback in U.S. armed strength.

"The Vietnamization program will have a very substantial effect on programmed draft calls for the months ahead," Laird told a news conference.

The defense secretary said he will inform the Selective Service System Friday of the planned changes and will urge Congress that same day to enact reform legislation designed to remove inequities in the draft.

Ogilvie Picks Successor For Dirksen

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Ralph T. Smith, the speaker of the Illinois House, was named by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie today to fill the Illinois seat in the U.S. Senate left vacant by the death of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

Smith, a Republican from Alton, was the expected choice after Atty. Gen. William J. Scott withdrew from the race Monday. Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., of Rockford, also was a strong contender to succeed Dirksen who died Sept. 7 in Washington.

Ogilvie made the announcement in his office. Smith, his wife, and Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., were present.

The governor said he telephone President Nixon Tuesday to tell him of his decision.

"This difficult decision has been given most careful thought and undivided attention for several days. It is probably the most important decision I will make in four years as governor," Ogilvie said.

Smith will fly Thursday to Washington to take the oath of office.

Civilians Also Victims of Raid By U. S. Gunners

SAIGON (AP) — Nine Americans and seven Vietnamese were killed in Vietnam war accidents in the past four days, the U.S. Command announced today. Another 17 Vietnamese and 10 Americans were wounded in the incidents.

Most of the American casualties occurred Saturday. U.S. headquarters said eight men from the 1st Infantry Division were killed and 10 wounded when an explosive charge they were placing near an artillery base blew up.

The accident occurred 33 miles northwest of Saigon and is being investigated.

A U.S. Marine was killed Tuesday six miles south of the demilitarized zone when a helicopter rotor blade hit him. The helicopter was lifting a Marine patrol out after a brief fight.

The 24 South Vietnamese were killed or wounded in an American gunship attack Tuesday in the Mekong Delta about 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

Suspected Enemy

The U.S. helicopter gunships opened fire with rockets and machine guns on suspected enemy troops who turned out to be civilians 18 miles northwest of Bac Lien, a provincial capital.

U.S. headquarters said four men and three women were killed, and 12 men and five women were wounded.

"The incident is being investigated," a communique said.

The enemy forces supposed to be in the area were never located, and there was no fighting, spokesmen said.

Meanwhile, military sources said South Vietnamese troops will take over the entire defense of Saigon within the next 30 days, freeing a brigade of American paratroopers.

There was speculation that the 3rd Brigade of the 82nd Airborne Division would be among the 35,000 or more U.S. troops which President Nixon announced Tuesday would be withdrawn from Vietnam by Dec. 15.

Froehlich Won't Return to 'Wrong Side'

MILWAUKEE — Appleton has a wrong side of the tracks.

And, by his own admission, Assembly Speaker Harold Froehlich was brought up there.

This disclosure was made as he and Assemblyman Kenneth Merkel, R-Brookfield, turned down an invitation to live, dine and shop with welfare recipients on a limited budget.

Froehlich said he was "brought up on the wrong side of the tracks" and is already familiar with problems of the needy.

The Assembly leader could not be reached this morning to explain where the "wrong side" was located, although city directories of the 1930s and early '40s listed his family as having resided in at least three locations on Appleton's northwest side.

Merkel's reaction to the offer by welfare recipients was, "If I want to be poor, I'll quit work."

The offer to spend Thursday and Friday in Milwaukee's Inner Core with needy families was presented to a Republican committee which Froehlich had set up to study urban problems.

Froehlich
Merkel, a member of the John Birch Society, was named chairman of the committee. The group is engaged in hearings concerning programs affected by a loss of funds which legislators eliminated from the 1969-71 state budget.

Committee members and Froehlich were asked by Jewish and Protestant women's groups to spend a day or more in Milwaukee's Inner Core to study "how the other half lives."

The program called for committee members to live in an Inner Core motel, dine with Negro and Mexican-American families, shop, and submit employment applications.

Three members of the group said they would consider the invitation. They are Assemblymen James Sensenbrenner, George Klicka and Erwin Tamms.

Merkel said his committee wasn't having much better success with its efforts to learn from industrialists about job opportunities for welfare recipients.

"I invited about two dozen large employers, and only one came," Merkel said.

Didn't Like 8-to-5 Job

Things 'Just Happened' For First Female Trooper

JUNEAU (AP) — Frances Jean Howard, a thoughtful, thoroughly feminine lass of 25, says she became Alaska's first female state trooper because she likes police work — not because she's out to prove anything.

"I'm not a barnstormer. I'm not a women's rights advocate," the blue-eyed brunette said. "It just sorta happened."

It started when Miss Howard, a trained dental technician, decided "there were different things I wanted to see that I couldn't see at an 8-5 job in a dental office," and she left Grants Pass, Ore., for Alaska.

Started Thinking

She got a job as a clerk typist with the Department of Public Safety in February 1968 and later began to think that there was a place in the department for a female trooper.

State regulations for state troopers don't mention that an officer has to be a man. And, Miss Howard, nicely built and tall, passed the 5-foot-9 minimum height requirement.

She also passed all the written and oral tests and on Sept. 8, Gov. Keith H. Miller announced Alaska had its first female state trooper.

On Sept. 29, she'll join 20 other new troopers in Sitka for the Alaska State Trooper Academy's eight-week training session.

Miss Howard is a little leary of the physical regimen at the academy.

Too Much Running

"They say you have to run a mile before breakfast," she said. "I can't even move in the morning before a cup of coffee."

A minor problem is the design of her uniform.

The department has despaired of putting this pretty girl—who looks just right in a blue flowered, mini-length dress with a big broad white collar — into a man-tailored shirt and tie.

"It looks pretty unfeminine," Fran said. The uniform style is still on the drawing board.

Rogers Questions Propriety of City Property Purchase by Dix

KAUKAUNA — The common council Tuesday night authorized the legislative committee to draft a code of ethics or a statement of policy, covered by ordinance, governing actions of elected officials. The action came after Ald William Rogers, (5th), questioned the moral implication of an alderman purchasing city-owned property through a second person.

Rogers claimed Ald Russell Dix, (4th), purchased property formerly owned by the city through a second person who submitted the bid. He also claimed that Ald George Simon, (3rd), objected to the sale of the land because he felt the bid price was too low for a buildable lot. Dix took issue with Simon's contention. Bid price was about $900 Rogers noted.

Later Dix ordered the city engineer to grade the road to the lot, knowing the city's future plans were to make it the duty of property owners to

"Political Figure"

Dix told Rogers to check the records of who bought the property, to become better acquainted with his duties as chairman of the legislative committee and to check with the city attorney on the legality of the purchase. He accused Rogers of trying to "make a political figure of himself."

Rogers informed Dix he was not questioning the legality of the transaction, merely the moral aspect. He volunteered to apologize if he was wrong. Ald James McDaniel, (3rd), recalled the night the bid was received and the objection by Simon. "Dix was not the bidder and I thought the bid price was a good amount of money for the land," McDaniel said. He joined Rogers in calling for a code of ethics if another man submitted a bid for Dix.

Ald Lloyd Kloehn, (2nd), asked Rogers for more facts and said "everything should be in black and white, without rumors, before a man is condemned or condemned." Simon said, he did not object to the purchases when bids were let, merely to money received.

Ald Gerald Klarer, (4th), said Dix had requested City Atty

Donald Green to transfer the title directly over to him, rather than the original purchaser, which was not done. He also reported a record at the county register of deeds office shows the land was deeded over to Dix by the successful bidder on the same day his title to the property was recorded.

Previous Knowledge

Klarer questioned whether Dix, as an alderman, had any previous knowledge of the next high bid which would have permitted him to insure receiving the land. He asked Dix if he had anything to say on the matter.

Dix said he saw no reason why he should clear anything up. "The city drafted the deed and it went to the original purchaser," Dix said. He said Green handled the whole thing and could answer questions. Green took issue with the statement, indicating he merely drafted the deed for transfer of title to the successful bidder.

Dix then pointed out that sealed bids were accepted for the property and if he bought it, everything was above board. "What I paid the previous buyer is nobody's business," said Dix.

Klarer then told Dix he should thank Green for refusing to transfer the title directly over to him since this would really have caused trouble.

Rogers reiterated that he was not discussing the legal aspect

Fire Department Plans Programs to Improve Image

KAUKAUNA — Members of the fire and police commission met with Fire Chief Theodore Smits and his assistants Monday to review department policies and exchange ideas on how to improve the image of the fire department.

A set of rules and regulations governing conduct of personnel was proposed and plans were made for upgrading the department through initiation of better training programs, purchase of training equipment and extension of the good will programs by more frequent appearances before organizations and groups. Plans also were made to have new personnel participate in a first aid program, with refresher programs to be instituted for older members who have previously received a series of first aid courses.

Driver Forfeits Bond To Municipal Justice

LITTLE CHUTE — Robert Hoffman, 33, 602 W Wisconsin Ave., Kaukauna, forfeited bond of $35 on a charge of inattentive driving when he failed to appear before Municipal Justice Raymond Sanders Monday night.

Resolution in Kaukauna Little Lake Butte des Morts Bridge Backed

KAUKAUNA — A resolution approving a bridge across Little Lake Butte des Morts was approved Tuesday night by the common council and ordered forwarded to the State Highway Commission.

In supporting the bridge plan, council members felt it would ultimately benefit not only Kaukauna, but the entire Fox River Valley.

After receiving complaints about offensive smoke and debris from a Town of Buchanan dump site, utilized by the city, aldermen authorized Mayor Gilbert Anderson, Board of Public Works Chairman George Simon, City Atty. Donald Green and City Engineer Robert Natrop to meet with James Lehrer, dump site owner and operator, to determine what could be done to improve the situation.

Approval was given to hiring five full-time employees and one part-time employee for the street department. Recommended for full-time work were Richard Skalmusky, Edward Jansen, Keith Pitt, Robert Cummings and Alvin Kamke. Part-time worker suggested was Robert Hendricks.

Justice Court

Council members adopted an ordinance governing operation of a municipal justice court, updating the former ordinance to coincide with new statute numbers created by a change in the state law July 15.

was referred to the city planning commission for recommendation.

Natrop and Green were instructed to establish front footage figures for Chicago and North Western Railway-owned lands on Dodge Street for purposes of establishing assessments for concrete paving.

A question of eliminating burning barrels in the city was referred to the board of public works for further study with a suggestion that a zoning ordinance might be used in controlling use of such barrels.

Instruction Cost Standards Evolving for VTE Schools

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The first steps toward a statewide system of instructional cost standards for vocational education have been taken by the State Board of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education.

Acting after being spurred by the Legislature, the board has appointed a special committee to start work toward recommendations of a system eventually to be used in the distribution of state aids for vocational-technical instruction.

Work on Standards
Basic aim of the program is to achieve a measure or standard instructional costs for vocational and technical education, such as are already known and used in budgeting for state-sponsored collegiate education in Wisconsin.

The Legislature directed the state vocational board, as a part of the recently enacted 1969-71 budget, to begin work on such standards for future use in budgeting for the vocational school system.

Board President Joseph Noll of Kenosha said the standards may eventually be used to distribute state aids with an aim toward "rewarding efficient schools and penalizing less efficient institutions."

The four man committee was asked to confer with school administrators and teaching organizations on class sizes and teaching loads in the state vocational school system. Aim of the study is to derive a proposed system of "standards" expressed in terms of "teacher contact hours" to be used in computing state aid needs and levels.

A teacher contact hour is expressed as one hour of one teacher's instruction time exposed to one student. A teacher instructing a class of 15 students for one hour is involved in 15 teacher contact hours.

Milwaukee Levels

State system director Clarence Greiber suggested that the committee use as a basis for its investigation the recently-applied teacher contact levels proven in contracts after negotiations between the administration and teachers' union of the Milwaukee Technical College.

That contract includes standard contract load of 15 hours for academic lectures; 20 hours for lecture-demonstrations; 23 hours for laboratory work or quiz sections; 25 hours for skilled labs or shop work; and 35 hours for special assignments.

Appointed to the committee were Noll, Joseph Kautzer, a commissioner of the State Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations, newly elected board vice president Roy A. Dingman of Milwaukee, and John Zancanaro of Milwaukee.

The state board also gave formal approval to the existing liberal arts two year program at the experimental Nicolet College in Rhinelander. The program, sponsored by the state board, involves dual track instruction of liberal arts work and technical courses at the new school.

Associate Degrees

The program had never received formal approval for the vocational and technical school board. The unit agreed that liberal arts college transfer program graduates of the experimental college will be awarded two year associate degree diplomas upon completion of the course work.

Greiber told the board that mill rate levels now being set throughout the state for vocational students.

Budget for Library Up In Kaukauna

KAUKAUNA — The common council Tuesday night referred to the finance committee and Mayor Gilbert Anderson a library budget calling for an appropriation of $79,100.

Broken down, the budget showed $49,000 for personal services, $17,000 for materials and supplies, $23,500 for contractual services and $600 for capital improvements for a total budget of $90,000.

Unencumbered surplus of $10,000 from 1969 and $1,000 in miscellaneous receipts reduced the request to $79,100. This year's total budget was $62,480.

A letter accompanying the budget pointed out that $20,000 was included for architect fees to permit preliminary planning on a new building which should be ready for occupancy by 1972. It was pointed out the children's section was particularly crowded and the board was operating in an area of slightly over 3,000 square feet and over 8,000 square feet is needed.

Library board members felt budgeting for an architect would permit the city to seek federal aid to assist in financing a new building and would permit the planning commission and city officials to begin study of where a new facility should be located. Total budget request was $8,250 less than the original 1969 request, but $17,000 higher than received.

Worthless Checks Bring Three-Year Penalty for Man

John Thorne, 27, 103 W. Third St., Kimberly, was sentenced to eight months in jail and the remainder of a three-year period on probation when he appeared Tuesday afternoon in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 on 20 counts of issuing worthless checks.

Judge Nick Schaefer, who told Thorne he was getting a light sentence, gave him Huber work privileges and ordered that he pay his court-appointed attorney's fees and reimburse those who received the checks. He had pleaded guilty to the counts sometime ago.

The checks, totaling about $1,200, were cashed over several months in Winnebago, Outagamie, Waupaca, Brown, and Manitowoc counties. The charges from the other counties were consolidated.

Schaefer sentenced Thorne two years probation for the Outagamie counts and one year for the others, for the three-year total.

This is the way it's going to be. Pontiac's 70's

Surprised that Pontiac's setting the style for the umpteenth straight year? Of course not.

But you may be a bit dazzled to find out that Pontiac finally outdid Pontiac.

Take Bonneville. From the strong, new bumper grille to the standard 455 under the hood, it's a rouser. Inside: instant limousine. So luxurious some of the traditional big boys are already screaming.

One of the nicest things we could have done for Grand Prix's luxury was to leave it alone. We did. But we popped in a 455 V-8 for you to order.

Enter LeMans Sport. A brand-new series in the Pontiac stable. Wait'll competition sees it pull the new 400-cubes-under-the-hood trick. We'll show you that one if you check the right box on the order form.

By now you've spotted our '70 GTO. But maybe you haven't heard it. A sound so tough we've dubbed GTO "The Humbler."

This is Pontiac '70. And this is the way driving's going to be. It's at your Pontiac dealer's now.

Haynsworth Gains Support From Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth's denial of any conflict of interests in a 1963 court decision seems to be drawing some support from the liberal-moderate bloc on the Senate committee considering his appointment to the Supreme Court.

Haynsworth, who was called to testify on his nomination again today before the Judiciary Committee, said Tuesday his part ownership in a vending machine company doing business with a firm involved in the case six years ago had no bearing on his decision.

"I don't see any benefit that

Milwaukee's Doyne Eyes Governorship

MILWAUKEE (AP) — John A. Hart, D-Mich., in requesting Doyne, Milwaukee County's chief executive administrator, confirmed Tuesday night he is thinking about running for governor in 1970.

"I don't want to be counted out, but I don't want to be counted in," Doyne told a newsman.

Doyne, 57, named to the newly created post of county executive in 1960, said his ultimate decision will be geared to a large extent on how the state Legislature responds later this year to Gov. Warren P. Knowles' proposals for additional state support of urban programs.

He has insisted state government should take more financial interest in the problems of municipalities, and predicted the primary concern of the 1970s will involve city problems.

"What happens in Madison in the next few months may have a lot to do with the decision I make," Doyne said. "I have very strong feelings that the message is not getting across concerning the urban community."

Doyne said he would not bid for the executive office against Knowles. However, Knowles has said he will not seek another term.

Knowles is a Republican. It is presumed Doyne would run as a Democrat—although he technically is not a member of either party.

Doyne said he endorses the basic ideas in Knowles' programs.

'One Little Thing' Valerie Percy's Killer Remains at Large, So Investigation Goes on

CHICAGO (AP) — It's been three years since Valerie Percy was murdered in an elegant North Shore mansion, but the state's chief investigator in the unsolved case is still looking for "that one little thing."

"That might be all we need, just one little thing that ties to another little thing," Robert Lamb, an Illinois state police corporal and head of the three-man team assigned to the Percy investigation, said in an interview.

Lamb joined the case a week after Valerie, 21, the twin daughter of Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., was stabbed and beaten to death in her bedroom just before dawn Sept. 18, 1966.

"We've talked to burglars, home invaders, sex offenders, as well as relatives, friends and anyone who might have known Valerie," Lamb said, "but we don't know who did it or why."

Lamb still receives letters and telephone calls from persons with theories in the case.

"Some we check out, most of them we don't," Lamb said, "but no one has really forgotten it."

Killed in Bedroom

Valerie Percy was killed in the bedroom of a $200,000 English country home overlooking Lake Michigan in Kenilworth, the smallest of the exclusive North Shore suburbs.

Bartenders Invited To Catholic Retreat

CLINTON, Iowa (AP) — The Redemptorist Center, a Roman Catholic retreat house, has invited bartenders and cafe and lounge workers of all faiths to visit the center the weekend of Sept. 28.

The fathers and brothers of the Redemptorist Order who run the center hope to learn about people's woes through W.Va. chats during the visit.

"The fact that so many people turn to their bartender for personal counseling has always fascinated me. People cry on their shoulders, make intimate confessions, and blow off their hostilities upon tavern and cafe personnel," says the Rev. John Morton who instigated the idea.

Father Morton says bartenders are in a position to do much good.

he got out of the decision in this case," Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., told newsmen after asking Haynsworth a series of questions.

Similarly, Sens. Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, and Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky., said in separate interviews they heard nothing to indicate Haynsworth should have disqualified himself from ruling in the case.

The views expressed by Tydings, Fong and Cook, after listening to the testimony, indicated Haynsworth's position was drawing support from the committee's liberal-moderate bloc.

All three had been silent on the nomination of Haynsworth, now chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals.

Not a Segregationist

Tydings, who also said it was unfair to call Haynsworth a segregationist as some civil rights leaders have charged, had joined earlier with Sen. Philip Haynsworth not only complied with this request but also submitted copies of all his income tax returns from 1957 to date.

He said the tax returns would show how much he received in fees as a director of Carolina Vend-A-Matic, a company he founded in 1950 and of which he continued as a director until Oct. 15, 1963.

However, Haynsworth testified during questioning by Tydings that his fees as a director amounted to $2,600 in 1963. He said he did not recall how much they were in prior years.

Haynsworth testified it never

Migrating Birds Get Confused by Building's Lights

NEW YORK (AP) — The Empire State Building will turn out its lights for the birds.

Between now and Oct. 31 the floodlights that illuminate the top 30 floors of the 102-story building between dusk and midnight will be darkened on cloudy and foggy nights to help migrating birds.

The Audubon Society, which made the request, said the birds migrating south get confused by light when it is diffused through clouds or fog and are likely to lose their direction and fly into the building.

In the spring the lights will be turned off between April 15 and May 31, the northbound migration period.

Judge Clement Haynsworth, right, prepares for a Supreme Court. At left is Sen. Strom Thurmond, who—Senate hearing Tuesday on his appointment to the as Haynsworth—is from South Carolina.

Haynsworth said that at the time he was not conscious of any business dealings that Carolina Vend-A-Matic had with Deering-Milliken and his only interest in the case was that the court's ruling be legally correct.

U.N. Elects Woman As Sessions Start

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Having chosen a new woman president, the U.N. General Assembly turned today to the election of 17 vice presidents.

The vice presidents will sit on the assembly's steering committee with seven main committee chairmen who already have been elected and with Angie Elizabeth Brooks of Liberia, who was elected president Tuesday as the 126-nation assembly began its 24th session.

The steering committee was scheduled to work this afternoon on the question of whether the assembly will take up all of the 104 items—a record—proposed for its agenda.

Angie Brooks

Irish Situation

There was doubt about the Irish Republic's request that the assembly take up the situation in Northern Ireland, where the Roman Catholic minority and the Protestant majority fought a religious war last month.

British troops are now keeping the peace, Northern Ireland being part of the United Kingdom along with England, Scotland and Wales. Lord Caradon, the chief British delegate, said his government is "very much against" any assembly debate on Northern Ireland since the British government considers the situation there entirely a domestic matter.

President Nixon will address the assembly Thursday morning, then meet with Secretary-General U Thant, Miss Brooks and various delegates, probably including Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Miss Brooks, Liberia's assistant secretary of state, had no formal opposition in the election for president this year. But when the secret ballots were counted, Chilean Ambassador Jose Pinera had three votes, Saudi Arabian Ambassador Jamil Baroodi had one and Ugandan Foreign Minister S. N. Odoka had one. Miss Brooks won with 113.

The 41-year-old woman lawyer, second of her sex to head the assembly, challenged the delegates to reverse a gradual decline in the prestige of the United Nations.

"Positive Panacea"

She said the U.N. Charter "possesses a positive panacea against all that is socially and politically evil," but complained that "we have not achieved the strength with which the charter in its totality has endowed us."

Last year, Miss Brooks said, "world problems were either sidetracked or ignored, be it advisedly or by default."

Contract Anticipated on Menasha Redevelopment

MENASHA — The president next two weeks, and he indicated this Tuesday, and Redevelopment of the Menasha Redevelopment Authority (MRA) seems confident that the MRA will have a contract with Public Facilities Associates, Inc., in about two weeks.

That's what he indicated after leaving a closed meeting with David Carley, head of public PFA, and other MRA commissioners Tuesday noon at the Menasha hotel.

The two groups talked contract for about three hours and President Ralph McClone characterized the session as a good meeting.

He said the two parties will get together again within two weeks to iron out remaining differences in a proposed contract before agreement is reached.

He said hte MRA would like to sign a contract within the discussions Tuesday ment Director Robert Osheim said that he and Commissioner Kenyon Kimball would move proposals along, and discussed ahead to prepare a budget, the various points and found "hopefully by Oct 1"

The next regular meeting of the MRA is scheduled for Oct. 21, but a special meeting may have to be called if they hope to get together on a budget proposal.

The closed-door session Tuesday also witnessed the presentation by Carley of a former Oshkosh State University Professor of Economics as project coordinator for the Menasha.

Appleton Chamber to Take Stand on Bridge

NEENAH-MENASHA — The Appleton Chamber of Commerce is planning to join with its Neenah-Menasha counterpart and take a stand in favor of the Little Lake Butte des Morts bridge.

Jack Williams, president of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce, told the executive committee Monday the Appleton group was planning to have a representative at the public hearing Tuesday to back the bridge.

"They realize they'll probably get their fingers slapped because the City of Appleton is in favor of a bridge further north but they are going to take the stand anyway," Williams said.

The City of Appleton has remained neutral on the bridge question. In a committee meeting Monday night, officials decided to attend the meeting and make a final determination after they had all the information.

The chamber of commerce is planning to contact its membership to get a good turnout at the public hearing. Special emphasis is being placed on contacting the industrial element within the chamber.

This section would be used in the future when an interchange is built.

Engineering and contingency costs for the entire project has been estimated at $266,905.

Class Officers Elected for Year At Hortonville

Jim McCarthy has been voted president of the senior class, Eric Pingel, vice-president, Doris Schroeder, secretary, and Jeff Steinacker, treasurer.

Serving the freshmen are Daniel Kirk, president; Daniel Ratzburg, vice-president; Judy Inc lot at Kaukauna, also was Ziegler, secretary, and Barbara Jones, treasurer.

Neal Wunderlich, senior class representative on the student council, was elected president of the council. Other seniors elected to the council are Glen Schaefer, of Outagamie County, Griesbach, Kathy Mann and Bettv Glasenapp.

A Kaukauna police officer testified Sept. 3 that Schmidt took the 1964 auto and was to meet two other youths after the theft. However, he reportedly ditched it when approached by a squad car.

When Schmidt was being returned from the court appearance Sept. 3, he fled and was caught several blocks from the courthouse following a foot race.

Span Designed for Expressway Plan

MENASHA — The basis for design of the Little Lake Butte des Morts bridge provides for incorporation of the work into the future Tri-County Expressway system.

Designed to expressway standards for two lanes of westbound one-way traffic, the bridge will be initially used to carry one lane of traffic in each direction.

The two-lane bridge, connecting U.S. on the west to Tayco Street and Racine Street on the east, will cost approximately $2,936,000.

Future construction would involve another bridge separating traffic and providing two lanes in each direction.

Initially, the two-lane span on the west approach would connect at grade to the superhighway, requiring construction of deceleration, merging and turning lanes to handle the traffic movements.

As an example, traffic moving south on U.S. 41 desiring to enter the town or city of Menasha would make a left turn on the deceleration lane, to be approximately 600 feet in length. After crossing over and stopping at an arterial, traffic would proceed east on the bridge.

Engineers, in their design, said two existing railroad crossings and grade connections to U.S. 41 could be eliminated by construction of a road east of, and parallel to, the railroad tracks, joining North Lake Street to the south with West Butte des Morts Beach Road to the north, and connecting to the west approach at grade.

The east approach would connect to Tayco Street, cross the railroad tracks and connect to Racine Street (County Trunk P) all at grade.

Both the east and west approaches, constructed of earthen fill materials, would extend 1,000 feet from shore with the bridge itself being 1,200 in length. Large culvert pipes will be installed in the approach for streamflow. The major portion of the costs of constructing the approaches will be salvaged when the ultimate expressway system is constructed.

The bridge itself, to be constructed of structural steel with similar reinforcement, will cost an estimated $937,000. The cost of the entire project could be reduced by $500,000 if the county gets approval from the U.S. Coast Guard to reduce the clearance from 52 4 feet to 32 feet.

Traffic moving from east to West (to U.S. 41) also will have direct access to the superhighway. After stopping at an arterial at the grade intersection, traffic would proceed onto an acceleration lane and merge directly with the U.S. 41 traffic.

Why build at grade intersection at a time when the state is on a 20-year program to close direct access to U.S. 41 from Milwaukee to Green Bay?

"This is a creditable argument," W. A. Schulenberg, design engineer with Owen Ayres and Associates, Eau Claire, admits.

"It's a matter of economics. There just isn't funding available to start and complete construction on the ultimate program."

But I must stress that there's enough of a serious traffic congestion problem west of Menasha to warrant the two-lane bridge at grade now," he added. He mentioned that costs for building the interchange at approximately $4.5 million will be the responsibility of the state in twing into the expressway system.

He explained that U.S. 12 in Eau Claire is presently being built for six lanes "all at grade level." "Engineers forecast it would be at least 20 years before the interchange separations are constructed," Schulenberg pointed out.

A cost breakdown on the entire project has been subdivided into four sections. Section 1, the west approach from U.S. 41 northbound to the west abutment of the bridge will cost $1,051,969.

This approach is considered temporary, but only the surfacing, base, subbase, course, could not be salvaged for ultimate construction of four lanes and an interchange.

Section 2 includes the bridge only at $937,013. Section 3 is from the east abutment of the bridge to Tayco Street, also considered temporary, at a cost of $760,754, and section 4, from Tayco Street to County Trunk P (Racine Street), $43,225.

Youth Pleads Innocent After Police Chase

Motorcycle Driver Denies 3 Charges; Trial Set Dec. 15

A 17-year-old Appleton youth who led police on a high-speed motorcycle chase Monday afternoon through the streets and yards of northern Appleton Tuesday pleaded innocent to three charges.

Leonard G. Arnold, 1347 W. Commercial St., appeared before Outagamie County Branch 2 Judge Nick F. Schaefer and denied charges of reckless operation of his motorcycle, operating motor vehicle after revocation of his driver's license, and attempting to elude a police officer.

Arnold was waived from Juvenile Court earlier in the morning. He was represented by legal counsel when he appeared before Schaefer, who set the trial for Dec. 15 and placed Arnold in the custody of his mother.

Put in Detention

Arnold was placed in detention Monday afternoon after a 20-minute chase, involving two squad cars. The chase began about 2 p.m. when Arnold was witnessed by patrolmen Edward Iverson and William Stewart traveling west in the 1400 block of W. Winnebago Street with his front wheel in the air.

When ordered by the patrolmen to stop, he sped away, police reported, and they began the chase.

Police said the chase was at speeds of 70 miles per hour and through stop signs. The chase was on Badger, Winnebago, Reeves, Linwood, Packard, Douglas, Lawrence, Outagamie, Badger again and Oklahoma streets, police said.

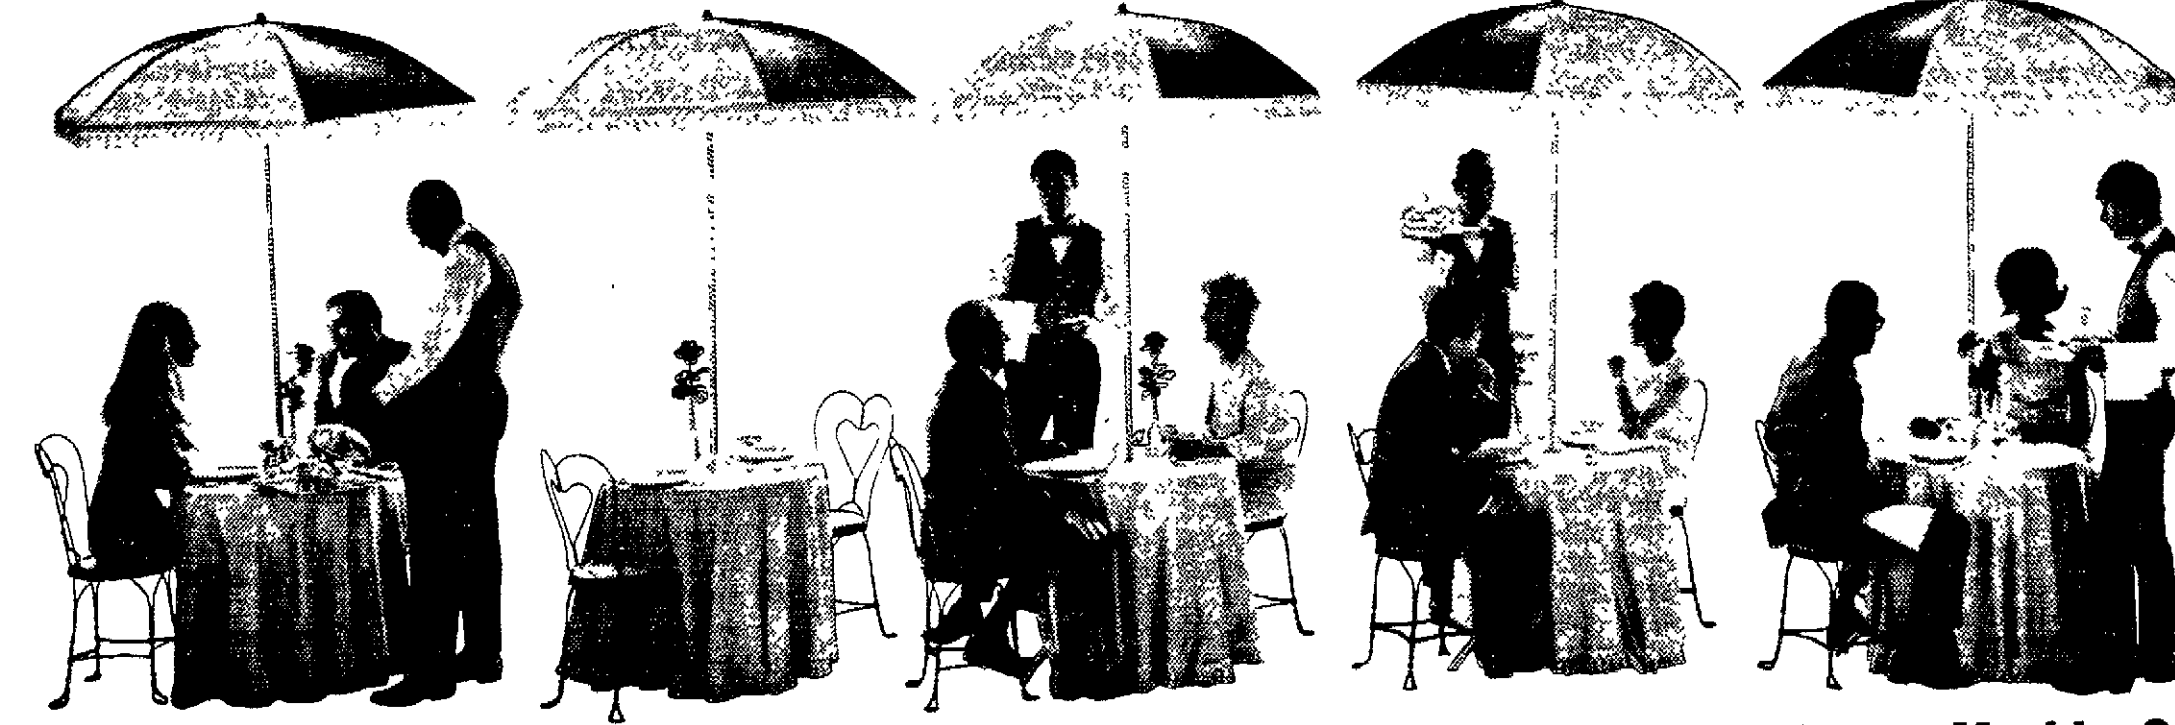

Residents Aid Police

Area residents directed police when the cyclist gained a lead and was temporarily out of sight, police said.

He allegedly traveled through a yard at the 1300 block of W. Spring Street narrowly missing a three-year-old girl who was swooped up by a woman and carried clear, police said. He also traveled through the Appleton High School-West athletic field, scattering the practicing football players as a second squad car joined the chase.

Police said one squad car was scraped slightly in the chase.

The patrolmen said they found Arnold's cycle in his garage and then took him into custody at his home minutes after the chase ended.

Gary's in England Again

Appleton's vagabond, Gary Lee Ahrens, is back on the "road" again and, unlike his last venture, he has successfully made it to Europe.

The young man gained national attention earlier this summer when he stowed away in the luggage compartment of a Pan American jet airliner from Chicago to London.

He was discovered when the plane landed in England and was returned to this country

— tourist class. He is believed to be the only person to successfully stow away aboard a trans-Atlantic flight without being injured.

Now Ahrens is back in England. He travelled from New York to Southampton, England aboard the liner SS France.

His report did not indicate whether his passage was in a stateroom or a life boat but said he was now "exploring the countryside."

State Bonding Plan Under Review by Finance Committee

MADISON (AP) — The Joint Finance Committee reviewed it by setting up dummy corporations Tuesday of replacing Wisconsin's dummy-corporation methods of handling the excess debt instead of the borrowing system with a plan described as a model for state governments throughout the nation.

Voters agreed in an April referendum that the state should be allowed to borrow beyond the existing ceiling of $100,000. The state now ignores the constitutional ceiling anyway, but does not want to set up dummy corporations which theoretically handle the excess debt instead of the borrowing system with a plan described as a model for state governments throughout the nation.

The Soviet news agency Tass said they discussed party activities and pledged efforts to "develop the fraternal relations" between their organizations.

William Cannon, a lawyer for the Milwaukee firm which has drafted a new borrowing plan reflecting the voters' decision, said the proposed legislation would let Wisconsin issue "blue chip" bonds at the lowest interest rates in the nation.

Simplicity of Bond
"This would be the best law in existence," Cannon said. Bond marketing is an extremely technical topic, he said, and the bill is a "model of simplicity and flexibility."

Using its dummy corporations, the state currently is borrowing considerably more than the statutory $100,000 limit. Estimates of the existing debt range from $550 million to $600 million.

The proposal approved in April by voters would raise the limit to $1.4 billion.

The bill recommends creation of a five-man committee under the Department of Revenue to handle the new borrowing scheme. The committee would comprise the governor, a senator, an assemblyman, the secretary of administration and the state auditor.

Passage
Glen Pommerening of the Department of Administration said the state could save .08 per cent in the interest rate it pays if the measure achieves speedy passage.

Assemblyman David Martin, R-Neenah, speaking for the bill, said he would like to see it amended so that the committee would be separate from any other department and would include professional representation.

He also suggested that lawmakers be selected from those who are members of the State Building Commission, to which he belongs.

Vocational Education
In other action, the committee heard from opponents of a bill to reclassify laws governing vocational education. They said the "educational establishment" is placing an "impossible financial burden on the property taxpayers of the state."

George Rice, legislative counsel for Milwaukee County, objected to what he termed the absence of county board control over vocational technical and adult education budgets.

By July, 1970, all areas in the state are to be included in a vocational district.

Sen. Walter Hollander, R-Rosendale, the committee chairman, said the only reason people are objecting to the bill is that when the new districts are in effect, many areas for the first time will be paying their share of the costs through a tax levy.

Crash Injuries Kill 2 Persons

The deaths of two persons of injuries suffered in accidents earlier this month boosted Wisconsin's 1969 highway toll to 780 today, compared with 828 on this date in record year 1968.

Edwin A. Lerum, 55, of Madison, died at a Madison hospital today of injuries suffered in a two-car crash Sept. 6 near De Forest. The crash claimed the lives of two other persons.

Killed were Eugene D. Leatherberry, 24, of De Forest and Mrs. Lucille A. Kieley, 55, of Madison.

Mrs. Robert Waldo, 46, of rural Adams, died at a Marshfield hospital Tuesday night of injuries suffered Sept. 11 in a head-on crash six miles south of Adams.

That accident, which occurred on a town road in Adams County, claimed the life of Louis Ferge, 16, of Grand Marsh, and injured several other persons.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Lt. Gov. C. C. Aycock prescribed less alcohol at lunch for Louisiana legislators.

Platform for Humphrey

Democratic Policy Makers Ready to Challenge Nixon

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee's new policy council is finally ready for business—and it may provide Hubert H. Humphrey with a platform from which to challenge President Nixon's performance.

Humphrey, the party's 1968 defeated presidential nominee and a possible candidate again in 1972, is chairman of the panel assigned to keep vigil on the Republicans.

Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, the party chairman, and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the 1968 nominee for vice president, are vice chairmen of the Democratic policy council, which has been some eight months in the making. Muskie and even Harris are considered possible 1972 candidates for the Democratic presidential nod.

Harris announced the council's makeup on the eve of a conference of Democratic state chairmen today, and a meeting of the national committee Thursday.

He appointed 20 Democrats, among them three governors, three senators, three members of the House and two big-city mayors, to the council executive committee.

Harris said 30 prominent Democrats later would be named members at large and six committees which deal with policy and issues in major areas.

He said this would give the Democrats an agenda for the years ahead, and perhaps "a climate of public opinion conducive to Democratic victories" in 1970 and in 1972.

Harris hopes liaison, and general agreement on the issues, would avoid the problem faced by a similar group during the Republican Eisenhower administration when Democratic congressional leaders regarded the council as an intruder.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Democratic leader, said he would be glad to work with the new council. "We just have to make up our own minds here, and do what we think is best, because we vote."

Ford Discloses Boost Of $108 in Car Prices

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co., the nation's No. 2 automaker, today announced its 1970 model cars would cost an average of $108 more than current models, an increase of 3.6 per cent.

Ford, shooting for a bigger share of the market now held by industry leader General Motors, came up with a price boost smaller than GM's $125 or 3.9 per cent increase.

The company also said it was holding the line on the price of its fast selling little Maverick, which goes for $1,995. Next to the 1970 Hornet being marketed by American Motors, the Maverick will be the lowest priced American-made auto. American Motors says its new Hornet will sell for $1,994. Trying to avoid being put at a competitive disadvantage by GM, Ford changed its mind on its warranty program after General Motors announced it was sticking with its five-year, 50,000-mile power train warranty.

Ford, which had announced in August it was trimming its warranty to one year with no limits on mileage or number of owners, now says it will offer a power train warranty of five years or 50,000 miles at an additional cost.

Ford sold 27.5 per cent of the American-made cars marketed between Jan. 1 and Sept. 10 while General Motors held more than half the market.

Like GM, Ford cited increased costs in labor, materials and taxes as the prime reasons for the price hikes.

Subterranean Tests Pushed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission, pleased with the success of a near-megaton underground blast, pushed plans today for even more powerful weapons tests in Nevada and Alaska.

Robert Miller, the AEC's Nevada operations manager, termed "very successful" the detonation Tuesday on Pahute Mesa, 110 miles north of Las Vegas, of a nuclear device that shook several western states and made tall buildings sway as far away as Salt Lake City, 340 miles northeast.

The $3 million test, which Miller said was "very important to national security," had an explosive yield officially described as somewhat less than a megaton. A megaton is the equivalent of a million tons of TNT.

Unofficial sources estimated the force at about 800,000 tons and linked the blast with development of a warhead for an antimissile system.

An AEC spokesman said a one-megaton shot is scheduled at Amchitka, in the Aleutian Islands off Alaska, next month. If that area proves safe, he said, tests of several megatons will be conducted there in the future.

Tuesday's explosion, which experts estimated blew a glassy bubble 700 feet across at the bottom of a 3,800-foot hole, sent ground shocks rippling hundreds of miles.

The first of three distinct waves hit Las Vegas 35 seconds after the 7:30 a.m. blast and tall hotels swayed for more than a minute. Minor damage to plaster walls was reported here and in Beatty, 30 miles from the blast site.

Seismologists recorded the shock at magnitude 6 to 6.5 on the Richter scale, which reads major earthquakes at 7 or above.

Newsmen who watched the blast on closed-circuit television monitors 15 miles away saw the desert floor bulge upward about 15 feet. Great cracks 50 feet wide and several hundred feet long appeared momentarily, then vanished as the earth settled back with a thump.

can contribute something worthwhile" to Lawrence.

Smith urged students to set priorities for their time. He said that where many of them had been leader in their high schools, competition here would be more difficult. He suggested that they be willing to investigate their goals and values and change them if necessary.

Lawrence begins formal classes next Monday, with a matriculation day convocation set at 11 a.m. Tuesday at which the new president again will speak.

Week's Activities

This week's orientation activities for the 1973 class of 208 men and 211 women featured a hootananny and dance at the Union Tuesday evening.

Today's activities include meetings with faculty advisors, tours of the campus, medical examinations, a discussion of a magazine article by Leonard C. Lewin; a convocation dealing with Lawrence University Community Council, Honor Council and Judicial Board; and an Afro-American Association dinner meeting.

Thursday will focus on individual appointments with advisors, music theory placement tests and auditions for the university's musical ensembles. An afternoon convocation is planned for bachelor of music candidates and others with strong musical interests. A panel discussion on drugs will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Union.

Ecumenical Dinner

Formal registration for freshmen and transfer students will take place on Friday. An ecumenical dinner for new students is set for 5:30 p.m. that day at Colman Hall. Conservatory faculty members and selected upper classmen will offer a recital at 8 p.m. in Harper Hall at the Music-Drama Center.

Saturday's activities begin with a 10:30 a.m. meeting entitled "Lawrence Traditions," followed by an afternoon picnic at Pierce Park. The University's Film Classics program will resume with a showing at 7:30 p.m., to be followed by a 9 p.m. street dance on Union Street.

Sunday afternoon will be devoted to fraternity and sorority discussions. A repeat of Saturday's Film Classics program will be seen that evening.

Co-chairmen of the orientation week are Pamela Tibbets, Beloit, and James Heinsimer, Skokie, Ill.

and whose terms expired this year, are Dr. H. P. Dixon, Donald Morrissey, Mrs. Robert Petersen and Richard Hamilton.

All received awards of appreciation. They will be replaced by Mrs. George Boyd, Mrs. William Ducklow, Gordon Beau and Lee Logan.

Re-elected to the board were Arnold Evans, Stephen Freschl, Mrs. Eugene Pierce, Norbert Rhinerson, Schlichting, William A. Seile and Paul A. Steinert.

Hurricane Film

Highlighting the evening was a newly-finished short film on damages caused by Hurricane Camille and the needs which resulted from the devastating storm, brought by Gil Tills, assistant administrator of the Milwaukee-Waukesha chapter.

"Nearly 69,000 families were affected and the Red Cross figures about 20,000 of these will be coming to us for help," Tills said.

It is at this point that the Red Cross' job really begins, he stated, adding, "and unfortunately, it is at this point where the exposure by the mass media tapers off and people start forgetting, making it more difficult to collect the needed funds."

Aid Families

The Red Cross has figured it will need from $15 to $19 million to aid the families in the South.

"We annually budget about $10 million for relief, but you just can't budget for all disasters," Tills said. "And if we don't get the needed funds, we will be in a bind this year because our reserves are low," he added.

The Outagamie County chapter has raised about $4,700 of their $6,000 goal for the Camille relief program.

In his annual report to the group, Taylor also stressed the work of the youth — a new area for the local Red Cross chapter. A group was organized at Kimberly High School and is headed by Barbara Welch.

Youth Projects

Two summer projects for the group were volunteer work in the Winnebago State Hospital and Family Heritage and collecting paperback books for ditty bags, which are sent to Vietnam by the Military Wives Club.

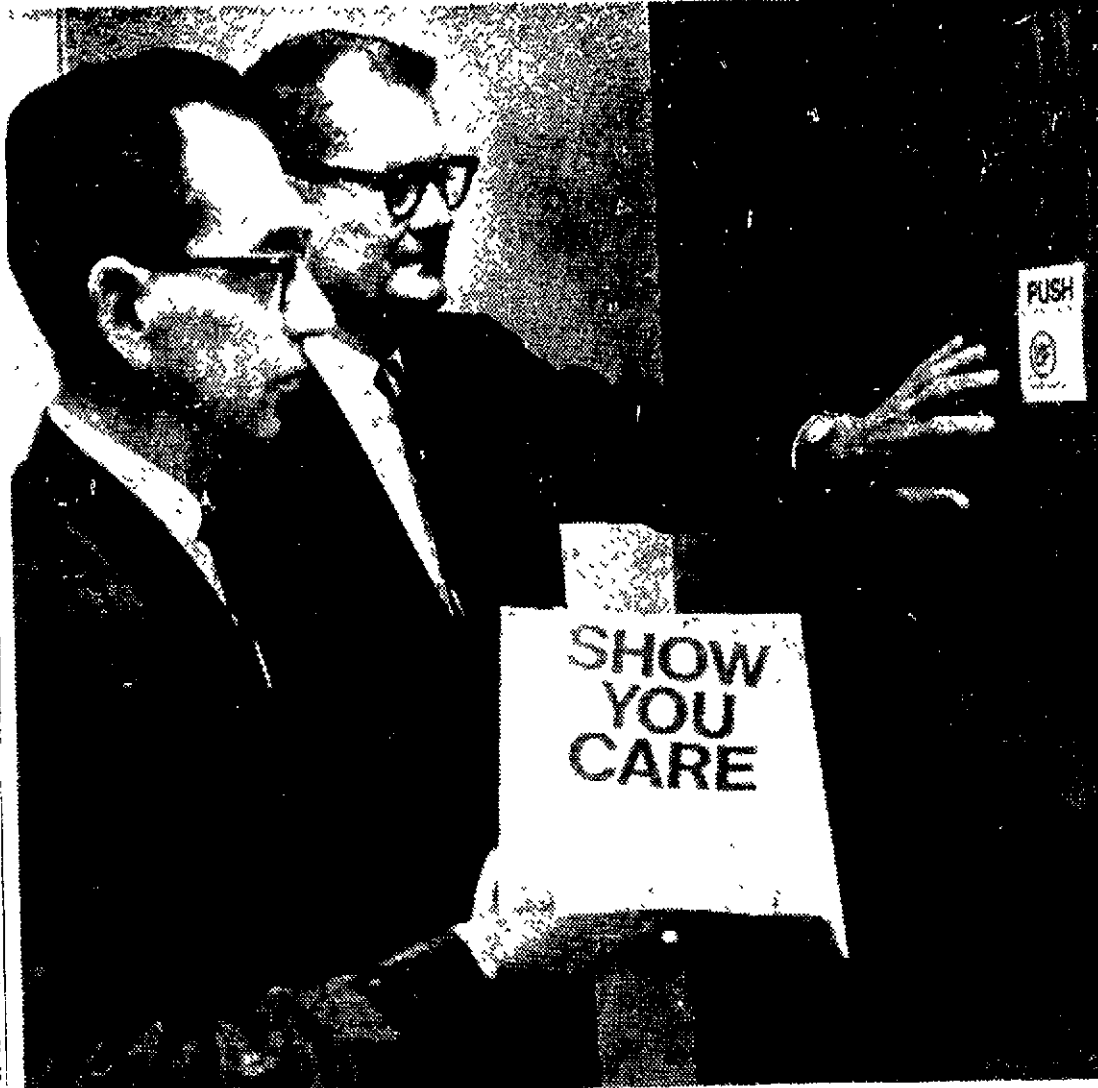

Also mentioned and thanked for their services to the Red Cross were the volunteers involved in serving military families, headed by Mrs. Robert Leithen; Military Wives Club, under the guidance of Mrs. John Bruss and President Mrs. Richard Lango; volunteer services, headed by Mrs. Robert Petersen, and county drive chairmen, Freschl and Herb Krueger, who organized the help of American Legion posts in the drive.

A special award was made to Mrs. Clifford Williams, who has been a Red Cross volunteer for 25 years and who will be leaving Appleton soon. She has served more than 1,500 hours at the Outagamie County Hospital.

Cash Reported Stolen From Appleton Tavern

Some $31 in cash and an undetermined number of pennies were reported stolen at 8 a.m. this morning from a Cozy Inn tavern, 117 S. State St.

Police said entry was gained by breaking a window in the rear of the building. The cash was taken from a drawer and the pennies from the cash register.

The United Fund's public-civic division kicked off its drive Tuesday with an opening contribution pledge by Mayor George Buckley, right, to William Moldenhauer, team captain. The drive among the city's 400 employees is expected to be completed in about 10 days, and although there is no dollar goal, each person is asked to give "his fair share." The general United Fund campaign will run from Oct. 6-30, with a total goal of $380,000. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Waiver Asked for Building Permit Shopko Planning Discount Store Near Northland and Richmond

A Green Bay discount department store chain plans to build a 60,000-square-foot store on Appleton's north side, city officials have learned.

Shopko Corp. has asked the city to grant a waiver that would allow the firm to obtain a building permit for the store, planned to be located on Northland Avenue just west of N. Richmond Street, alongside another retail development site.

The firm hopes to begin construction immediately, according to a letter to city officials from James H. Rubin, Shopko president.

A 17-year-old youth charged with selling LSD and possession of LSD and hashish Tuesday was put in the custody of his parents and legal counsel pending motions requesting his case be waived to adult court.

Juvenile Court Judge Raymond P. Dohr continued the case to Sept. 30 to allow briefs to be presented by the district attorney requesting the waiving of the youth to adult court.

The youth was put in detention Friday by Appleton police and had been held since then. The possession charge was filed Sept. 12 and the selling charged from an incident when he allegedly sold LSD to a minor on or about Aug. 22.

Rubin also said the firm is negotiating with developers of a shopping center immediately adjoining the proposed Shopko site, to share sanitary sewer facilities.

Shopko plans to employ about 200 persons, according to the letter.

A June, 1970, opening for the new store is hoped for, Rubin said. The store would employ about 200 persons, according to the letter.

Rubin asked the city to temporarily waive requirements for availability of water, since the city is not expected to extend water mains to the site until next June.

If the waiver is granted, construction could start now and the water could be connected when the mains are extended.

Richly tailored appointments and refinements welcome you to a new era of Cadillac taste and elegance. Sparkling performance invites you to experience an entirely new dimension of motoring pleasure. All told, it sets new standards of excellence for a great decade. In all eleven Cadillac models for 1970, you'll discover new ideas attuned to the spirited seventies. You may, for example, choose a new radio system that will seek out your favorite AM, FM or stereo-only station. The aerial is neatly concealed in the windshield, out of sight and out of the way. This year, Cadillac engineers have again made sure that the Cadillac ride continues to be the smoothest, the quietest, the most enjoyable in motoring history. Cadillac . . . Standard of the World.

The newly spirited 8.2 litre Eldorado

The Spirit of the Seventies is nowhere more evident than in the handsome 1970 Eldorado. Behind its smartly recessed grille is a great new V-8 engine with a displacement of 8.2 litres (500 cubic inches), the largest V-8 ever offered in a production passenger car. Created specifically and exclusively for the front-wheel-drive Eldorado, this new power plant harbors an ample reserve to operate the power assists one usually associates with a luxury car, while yielding a new kind of performance that will set the pace for personal cars for many years to come. The instant you feel the new 8.2 litre V-8 in action, you'll know that the Fleetwood Eldorado is, more than ever, the world's finest personal car. The moment you drive it, you'll know that Cadillac has left the sixties far behind!

Panama's Military Rulers Work Hard To Become Popular

PANAMA (AP) — As the story goes, one of Panama's military rulers disguised himself as a civilian and went out among the people.

In a downtown bar, he became friendly with another customer and finally asked him: "What do you think of the government?"

The other fellow at first refused to commit himself, saying he didn't discuss politics in bars. After some prodding, however, he relented and said: "Okay, I'll tell you, but not here where we can be hard." After checking the men's room thoroughly to see that they were alone, the fellow whispered: "Frankly, I like the government."

A favorite at business lunches, the joke supposedly illustrates the unpopularity of Panama's military regime, now 11 months in control of this minuscule Isthmian republic.

Popular Base
Actually, of the four Latin American countries presently under imposed military rule—Argentina, Brazil and Peru are the others—Panama's regime appears to be the only one with something of a popular base.

The consensus among businessmen and politicians is that the government has a sizable following among the lower classes. Since taking over last Oct. 11, the military bosses seem to have concentrated on wooing this sector.

A $45 million public works program has widened job opportunities. The little folks say government offices and clinics are opening on time and with full staffs.

"We no longer have to pay coimas to get attended," said a housewife. She means bribes.

"For once the law is being applied without discrimination," said an old cab driver, "even to the privileged rabiblanco." Rabiblanco, literally white tail, is the way the lower classes refer derogatorily to the wealthy.

Kind Words
Even at higher levels, among those opposed in principle to authoritarian rule and quick to censure excesses in dealing with political adversaries, there are kind words for some things the military bosses have done.

Official graft and corruption, believed to be among the worst in the hemisphere, have been sharply curbed. Streets are being repaired, many extended and widened and some new thoroughfares are under construction. This and the tightening of traffic regulations are easing urban problems. New schools, water and sewage systems, housing and electrification programs are under way here and in the interior.

Government policy aimed at buoying a sagging economy and arousing the confidence of investors has been praised as imaginative and positive. Less acceptable has been the government's emphasis on old-fashioned muscle rather than persuasion to curb opposition political activity. Newspapers are under censorship.

Laws Enforced
By enforcing old regulations, authorities got rid of some 3,000 National University students and most of the political activists—who failed to maintain a "C" average or better. All students are now required to carry a minimum of study hours. Representation in university governing councils has been limited to the top 10 students.

A 10-foot fence surrounds the campus grounds, which are patrolled by a police force appointed and paid for by the university. After a few exploratory efforts at agitation drew sharp official responses, students at high schools and the university have been quiet.

"A firm hand is sometimes needed to maintain the stability required for development," says Alfredo Aleman Jr., industrialist and a leading politician. He adds: "So long as that hand doesn't become excessive and drunk with power." He shares a view expressed by political leaders in other countries that Latin Americans "often fail to distinguish between liberty and libertinism."

Uses U.S. Dollars
Except for silver coins of 50 cents and under, Panama has no currency of its own and uses U.S. dollars, officially called "balboas," for all transactions. Unable to issue new currency, other governments often do to cover shortages, Panama has been able to maintain financial liquidity through a high rate of dollar inflow from long-term borrowing, investments and the sale of goods and services to the U.S. Canal Zone. Yearly income from the Canal Zone averages $150 million, almost enough to cover heavy import-export deficits.

Precise figures on the short-term borrowing position are difficult to come by. Best estimates place it at the range of $20 million to $25 million, with interest on a level with the Eurodollar yearly rate of 12 percent.

The country's No. 1 official planner, Nicolas Ardito Barletta, a doctor of economics from the University of Chicago, says the short-term load is not a problem and that most of it will be rescheduled to long-term range eventually.

"Sound Procedure"
"We are doing a lot of deficit financing, but this is sound economic procedure in a situation like ours," he says. "We have succeeded in leveling out a downward economic spiral and this is stimulating interest and confidence among foreign investors."

Critics say a lot of what the government is doing involves "prestige schemes" designed to win supporters and help perpetuate itself in power. A feeling is widespread that the No. 1 military boss, Gen. Omar Torrijos, is building a political base from which to launch a presidential campaign.

"I have no such plans," the young general said in an interview. "I will not seek the presidency."

How long will the National Guard stay in power?

"We're trying very hard to meet our stated objectives of having elections early in 1970," he said. "We're trying to build safeguards in government, like a civil service, to make it tougher for politicians to use government as a political machine in the future."

The Law and You Three Requirements Needed to Get Patent

Even in this era of large-scale research, a surprising number of inventions still come from the tinkering individual. Valuable patents still are being won by "basement inventors" ingenious enough to come up with something new.

However, to be entitled to a patent, an invention must be not only new but also—in the words of the U.S. Constitution—"useful." What kind of an invention is useful?

First of all, it must be able to work.

Perpetual Motion
One man invested a "perpetual motion machine," complete with a dazzling array of doodads and thingamabobs, but his invention was held not patentable because, being contrary to the laws of nature, it could not possibly do the job it was meant for.

Second, to qualify as useful, the invention must do something that is beneficial, not harmful to society.

Thus courts have denied patent rights to a device for faking the quality of tobacco leaves and to a gadget for "curing" disease by mysterious vibrations. Both inventions were found to be useful only for the purpose of cheating—hence not

What if an invention, while useful for evil, is also useful for good? That is enough basis for a patent. For example, an improved pistol could be patented. Although an instrument for evil in the hands of a robber, it could also be an instrument for good in the hands of defenders of the peace.

Not Just Frivolous
A third requirement for an invention to be considered useful is that it must be more than a mere frivolity.

Of course, what is frivolous to one generation might not be to the next. A century ago a federal court said that a hoop skirt could not be patented because it had no serious value to society. But today's courts are not likely to be that prim and proper.

As for what might be called "odd-ball" inventions, the Patent Office generally takes a tolerant view. For instance, it has issued patents for an automatic hat-tier, a shield for graefruit eaters and a gun for shooting down flies. For who can be sure that the oddity of today won't be the success of tomorrow?

Landing Fee Plans Hit by Air Wisconsin

Outagamie Airport Proposal Would Hike Cost 4 Times

Plans to raise Air Wisconsin's landing fees at the Outagamie County Airport to 6 cents per 1,000 pounds airplane weight drew objections Tuesday from John Coway, Air Wisconsin vice president.

The fee increase, proposed by the county board's airport committee, would increase by about four times the amount the airline now pays the county.

Air Wisconsin paid the county about $1,400 last year in landing fees. Under the proposed increase, the amount would go to about $6,000.

Conway said Air Wisconsin has no objection to an increase in landing fees but feels the proposed amount is too big of a hike.

Counter Offer

Air Wisconsin officials countered with an offer to double the present rates retroactive to Sept. 1 and then go to the proposed 6 cents per 1,000 pounds when the county has a control tower in operation at the airport.

Both the landing fees and the control tower will be discussed again by the committee Friday morning.

Problems are still plaguing the county in efforts to get final detail work completed at the Kimberly-Clark Corp. hangar before the building can officially be turned over to the county by the contractors.

Several of the items remaining involve a dispute over whether there were omissions in the hangar plans, drawn by a South Carolina engineering firm, or were the fault of the engineer or the contractor.

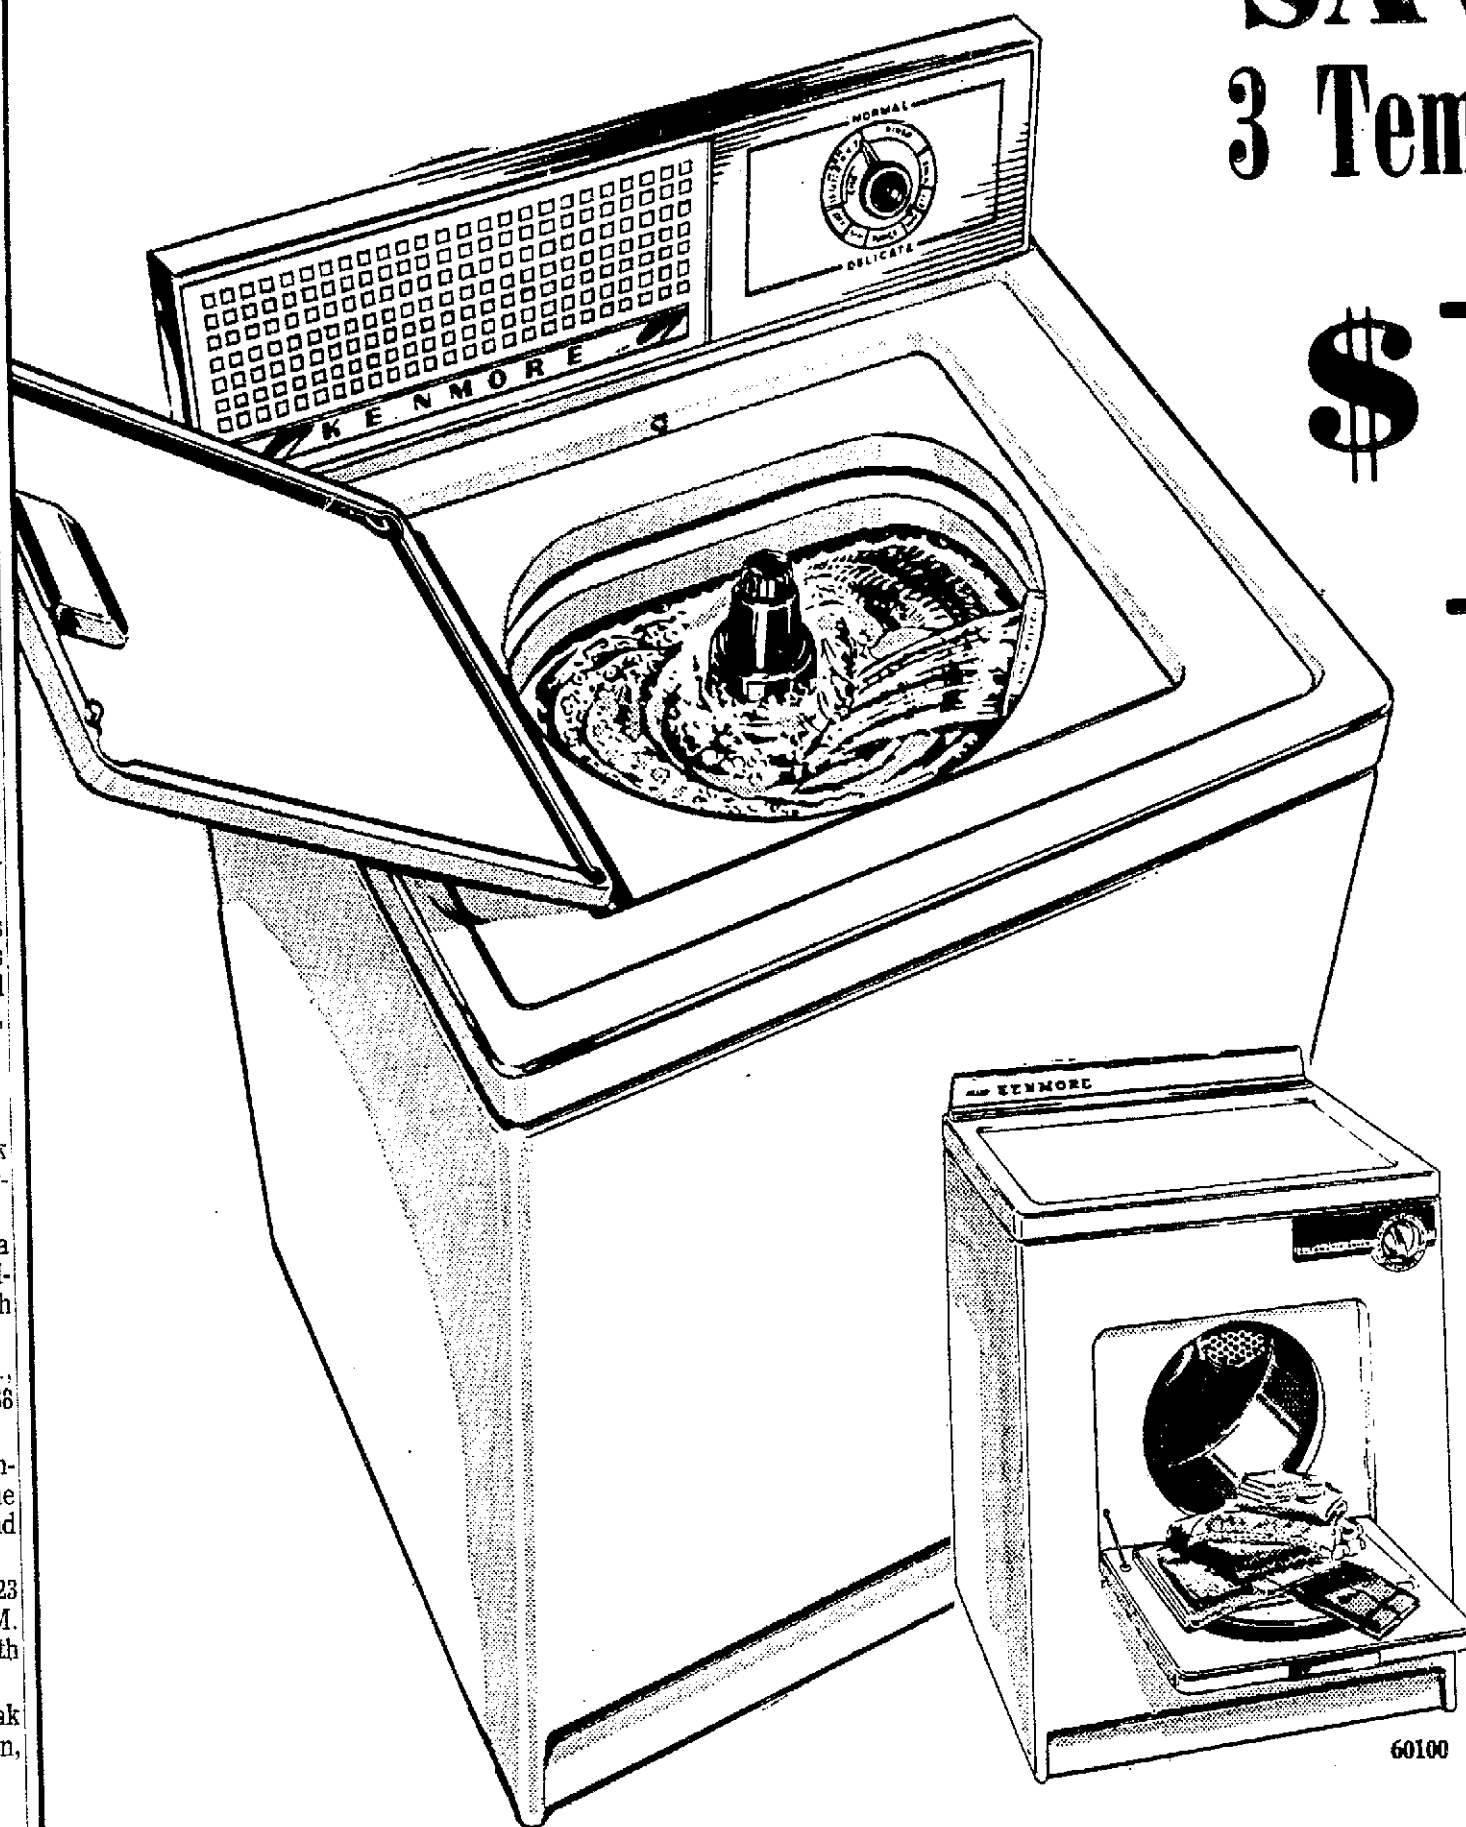

County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler, Appleton, told the committee he would follow through to get the hangar accepted.

Bed Rest and Liquids Help Fight Hepatitis

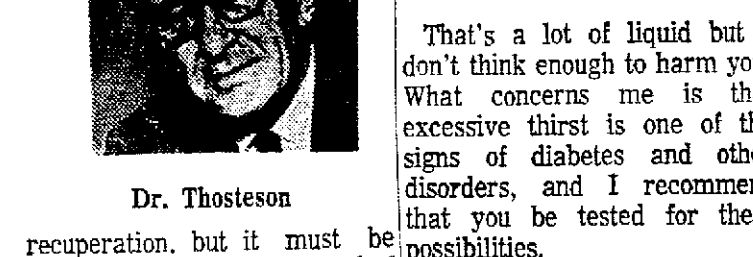

BY GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

As remarked yesterday, there isn't any "dramatic" treatment for hepatitis, no "wonder drug." Indeed, there are few virus diseases which yield to medication, and that is true of hepatitis, a virus infection of the liver.

The liver, fortunately for all of us, has strong powers of recuperation, but it must be given a chance. Therefore bed rest and a liquid diet are essential in treating hepatitis in its early, acute stage.

Dr. Thosteson

Bed rest gives the liver its chance to recuperate by relieving the body of strain. Anyway, the patient is pretty sick and weary and wants to rest. And the liquid diet is designed to cope with the extreme loss of appetite and to ease the burden of the liver.

Frequent small feedings are the right pattern at this stage. The patient hasn't much appetite, but he does need food.

Signs of Recovery

Return of appetite, reduction of swelling and tenderness of the liver, and a return toward normal of chemical tests signify the beginning of recovery.

As soon as the patient can tolerate it, he should return to a full diet but — and this is of urgent importance — he must not consume alcohol in any form. Alcohol puts a strain on any liver; when the liver is combatting the virus infection of hepatitis, alcohol is, literally, poison.

As the disease subsides, so does the jaundice, or yellowness of the skin. Reason for this yellowing, by the way, lies in the coloring matter in bile, the important digestive juice produced by the liver.

With the liver inflamed and swollen, much of this yellow coloring matter is discharged by filtering through the body tissues. As the liver's function returns to normal, the bile again is sent where it does the most good — to the intestinal tract.

Coloring Matter Goes

The stool, instead of being clay-colored, then returns to its yellow or brown, and the coloring matter is thus discharged from the body instead of settling in the skin and other tissues.

Hepatitis, properly cared for, usually runs its course in from six to eight weeks, but this will vary from person to person.

Does hepatitis come back? As a general rule, no. One attack usually confers immunity. But I wouldn't advise anyone to be careless about such methods of prevention as I will discuss tomorrow.

How soon to get up without mental and social questions. risk of a relapse? The only rule: I can give is to stay in bed as long as your doctor tells you to. Your appetite, how you feel, and return of the liver to normal size, all are guides, but chemical tests to determine the state of recovery are the final indication of when it is safe to resume normal activity.

Shirley Temple Black Sworn in as Delegate

NEW YORK (AP) — Shirley Temple Black has been sworn in as one of the 10 U.S. delegates to the U.N. General Assembly and will specialize on environmental and social questions.

After the ceremony Tuesday, news conference she was concerned with "air pollution and water problems."

"I would hope we could work toward peace and human brotherhood and to improve the environmental situation in the world," she said.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My tongue constantly has a thick coating, but in other ways I am in perfect health, and had a checkup a few months ago. Have you any suggestions? — Mrs. E.G.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I drink about 20 glasses of water a day plus tea and milk. Could this much liquid be harmful to an adult? I do not feel good and wonder if this could have an effect. — Mrs. R.B.

That's a lot of liquid but I don't think enough to harm you. What concerns me is that excessive thirst is one of the signs of diabetes and other disorders, and I recommend that you be tested for these possibilities.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Post-Crescent for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Thosteson regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

LBJ Writes Favorably of Critical Book

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson has penned a favorable foreword to a book by Eugene Black, former president of the World Bank, critical of the policies which led to big scale U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

In the book, "Alternative in Southeast Asia," Black said the attempt to beat off the Communists through counterinsurgency "proved faulty in Vietnam and in the process, helped to destroy much public support for the while idea of foreign aid."

Black, once a Johnson adviser on economic development in Southeast Asia, suggests instead of "an overwhelming American presence a multilateral framed

No. 2 Buddhist Flees Chinese

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Tibetan sources say the Panchen Lama, who ranks second in Buddhism to the Dalai Lama, has escaped from a Red Chinese prison with Soviet assistance, and taken refuge in a monastery in Outer Mongolia.

The Panchen Lama was set up as the puppet head of the Tibetan state after the Dalai Lama fled from the Chinese into exile in 1959.

But in 1964 the Panchen Lama fell out of favor with the Chinese Communists and was imprisoned.

Johnson's foreword comments "Whether one agrees or not with all of his analyses and prescriptions, no reader will put this book down without being left with a whole winter's cup-board full of food for thought."

Poor People's Lawyer Leads a Special Life

By JOHN S. LANG
Associated Press Writer

"The other guy smells worse. No matter how bad my guy is, the other guys are worse. You gotta know that, the other guys are the bastards."

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Weiss, the philosopher, grins about the Hell's Kitchen hustler who gave her teen-age daughter territorial rights to two blocks of 51st Street. It was a birthday present.

He shrugs over the strange little man who lived in the same apartment with his wife and her lover two months before deciding his five children needed better care.

Jonathan Weiss, the lawyer, has to.

Speaks of Father

He defends them, for free. He refers often and lovingly to And he believes with a fervor he his father, Dr. Paul Weiss, one does it better than the few attorneys in private practice in New York's lower West Side slums.

Weiss is what's called a poor people's lawyer, one of 2,000 across the land under contract with the Office of Economic Opportunity to provide the indigent with the same legal help a moneyed man can buy.

About 100 of these poor people's lawyers, attending a conference last month in Vail, Colo., sent a 15-page telegram to OEO officials complaining that their integrity and independence were not being protected by the Nixon administration. They also demanded immediate funds for several controversial projects.

Called Trivial

Weiss, a lecturer at the conference, didn't sign the telegram. The protest, he said, was an "exercise in triviality."

Weiss' shingle hangs in Hell's Kitchen where it stinks when it rains and smells worse when the sun shines strong, where the people—the pimps, the dead-beats and the crazies—wear the cologne of poverty, Lava soap and sweat.

The people, his clients, don't stink to Johnny Weiss. He's got a credo:

"The other guy smells worse. No matter how bad my guy is, the other guys are worse. You gotta know that, the other guys are the bastards."

Jonathan Weiss Talks to an assistant in his Hell's Kitchen office. Weiss is what's called a poor people's lawyer, one of 2,000 across the country under contract with the Office of Economic Opportunity to provide the indigent with the same legal help a moneyed man can buy. (AP Wirephoto) exam. They are Weiss' specialties.

Yet there is talk within the OEO of gradually shifting the focus of legal services from a case-by-case approach to undertakings that would affect great er numbers of the poor, such as suits against government agencies failing to provide adequate services.

"Crap," says Weiss. "What's a little case? You don't know what a little case is until you go into it."

"Secondly, what right have you to tell a client, 'You don't have a socially redeeming case and we won't take you.'"

Residency Case

One of these cases which Weiss took is now a landmark in social law. In it, the residency case, the Supreme Court ruled that a person need not have lived in a state for a year to get welfare.

But a week before the decision, the New York Legislature passed a law withholding such payments on the presumption that those applying within a year after entering the state had come for the purpose of getting welfare.

On a Wednesday, Weiss is before a three-judge federal panel in Albany arguing this new state law is unconstitutional. Pending a final decision, the court issues an injunction ordering the state to continue payments to Weiss' clients.

Personal Life

"It's disgraceful," he gripes. "I don't even think child neglect cases are constitutional. What right have they to intrude on the family? Moral grounds? The privacy of personal morals are protected by the Constitution."

But the husband enters Weiss' office asking help. He's got no money and he wants a lawyer. That's what Weiss is there for. He takes the case and he wins it. The children are placed in a juvenile detention center.

On a Friday, Weiss is in Manhattan Family Court, again representing the husband. Before losing the children, the wife had filed for support. Weiss' defense is the obvious: why pay her when the children aren't with her?

Family Court waiting room at 9:20 a.m. is unreal despite the solid trappings of government. It is a series of uncomfortable impressions: signs warning not to spit or smoke, the steady squish of cheap shoes on marble floors, quick sour whiffs of nervously digested breakfasts. One hundred and two pairs of eyes stare rapidly at the uniformed man who dully calls the next case.

Speaks No English

On a slippery bench among the people is Weiss' client, a Puerto Rican immigrant who speaks no English; a small, thin, dark man wearing a shiny brown suit so baggy his knees would rattle the trouser sides like bell clappers.

Weiss is late, by 30 minutes, but he knows it makes no difference. He's got no clout in this court and he'll be lucky to get his case before the judge by noon. As it happens, it is 1 p.m. when Weiss and his client leave the court. They have won, and the husband pays no support.

"That's my life," says Weiss. "I'm in court every morning waiting to argue my cases, wasting time. It's a shame. In the afternoons I interview new clients."

Right now Weiss is working

Wednesday, September 17, 1969

on about 70 cases. He accepts 20 to 30 new ones each month, about half the workload of other lawyers in his Legal Services Division office.

Class Action

"The reason is that I hunt for aspects that can lead to appeals," he explained. "Appeal far enough, get the Supreme Court to make a precedent-setting ruling in a class action suit and you have, in effect, represented many, many more people than merely the client named in your petition."

This makes Weiss think the neighborhood lawyers, paid by contract from $7,500 to $13,500 a year, can do a better job for the poor than a private lawyer.

"The private attorney," says Weiss, "takes a case but quits fighting when his client runs out of money. We get no fee, our income is guaranteed, and there's no reason to stop."

But so heavy is the work load, so depressing the cases, most lawyers in Legal Services become burned out after two years.

Weiss did, himself, once. Now he's nearing the end of a second two-year hitch as a poor people's lawyer.

And, now 30, he looks 40, balding, sloping shoulders, stepping heavily.

"I'm not God, of course," he says. "I can't help them all. I'd like to go out in the neighborhood and generate 40 more new cases a month. But I can't."

"...," he says, beginning the 30-block walk home from Hell's Kitchen.

Color It Tomato

Lillian Mackesy POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR

The red ripe fruit of the tomato vine or plant is at top of harvest in home and country gardens, but this is one food that's available the year-around these days. Thanks to southern states and beyond into Mexico and Latin America and modern shipping facilities, we have tomatoes in abundance throughout the year.

The homegrown always are most enticing with their rich, full flavor and most area home-makers with a love for gardening still like to "put them up" in all sorts of ways.

Tomatoes have been making history ever since they were discovered more than 500 years ago. They grow wherever there are enough warm days and nights for them to mature. They have become one of the world's most important food plants simply because the tomato is so versatile.

The tomato can be served alone or in a dressing. It makes an excellent food by itself, in a salad, stuffed whole or as part of a stuffing. It goes with cheese and is a delightful dish when broiled with a topping of cheese. . . it's great in a sandwich . . . cover slices of fresh tomatoes with a zesty marinade for a wonderful side dish. . . use it with a corn custard for an old-fashioned favorite . . . make a new-fashioned pizza or team tomato chunks with shrimp in a kabob.

There just is no method of cooking or preparation that doesn't fit the versatile tomato. . . it can be baked, fried, broiled, boiled, grilled, pickled, marinated, stuffed, sliced or chunked. Here are a few of the ways the beautiful tomato . . . so chockful of vitamins C, A and B, not to mention health-giving minerals — can become a colorful part of today's meals.

GRILLED TOMATO HALVES

- 3 large tomatoes
- 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
- 1 tablespoon milk
- ½ teaspoon Tabasco
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon dry basil leaves

Remove brown stem end and slice tomatoes in half. Combine cheese, milk, Tabasco, salt and basil in saucepan; heat until cheese is melted. Line broiler rack with foil. Place tomatoes on rack. Pour some of mixture over each tomato half. Place in broiler about 3 inches from source of heat for about 5 to 7 minutes. Recipe makes six servings.

TOMATO DILL SALAD

- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon sugar
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- ½ cup vinegar
- ½ teaspoon Tabasco
- ½ cup salad oil
- 4 sprigs fresh dill, stems removed
- 3 tomatoes, sliced

Mix dry ingredients thoroughly; add vinegar and Tabasco and stir until blended. Add oil and beat or shake well. Snip dill and add to marinade. Pour half-cup over tomato slices. Let stand in refrigerator about 1 hour before serving. Recipe makes one cup marinade.

STUFFED TOMATOES

- 4 large firm tomatoes
- 1 can (12 ounces) corned beef, chilled
- ¼ cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon milk
- ½ teaspoon Tabasco
- ½ cup chopped celery
- ¼ cup chopped green pepper
- ¼ cup chopped cucumber
- 5 pitted black olives, sliced

Core tomatoes. Scoop out some of seeded middle. Cut tomatoes in quarters but do not cut through to bottom. Cut corned beef into small cubes. Combine mayonnaise, milk and Tabasco. Add celery, pepper, cucumber; toss. Add corned beef. Spoon into tomatoes. Decorate with olive slices.

TOMATOES IN CORN CUSTARD

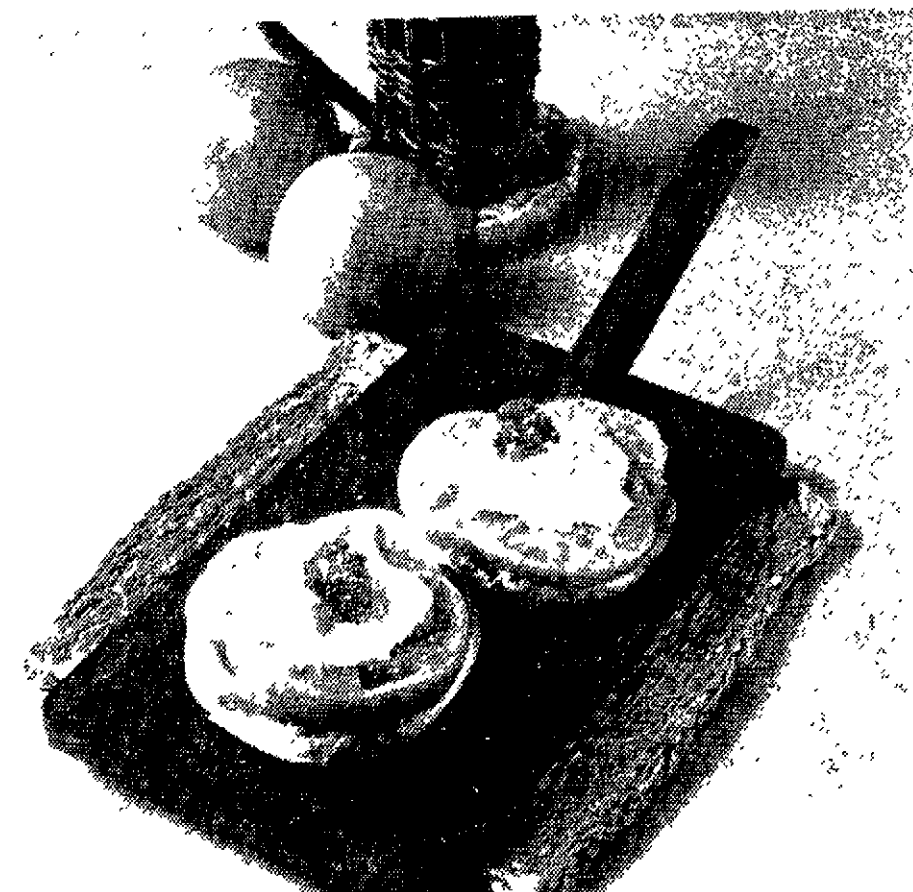

- 3 large tomatoes
- 1 14½ oz. can cream style corn
- 2 eggs, beaten
- ½ cup sour cream
- ½ cup minced green pepper
- ¼ cup minced fresh onion
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper

Core tomatoes and cut in half. Arrange one tomato half in each of six ramekins or similar oven-proof dishes. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over tomatoes, dividing the custard mixture evenly between ramekins. Place ramekins in a large pan of hot water (1 inch of water when ramekins are in pan). Bake at 350 degrees until silver knife inserted into custard comes out clean, about 35

Kabobs With Shrimp

Tomato Pizza

Tomato Juice, Piccalilli or Chili Sauce

Late summer is tomato canning time for the creative homemaker who likes to make her own. Here are a few recipes made to be treasured.

HOMEMADE TOMATO JUICE

Use ripe tomatoes. Wash. Remove stem ends; cut into pieces. Simmer until softened, stirring often. Put through strainer. Add ¼ teaspoon Tabasco and 1 teaspoon salt to each quart juice. Reheat at once just to boiling. Pack boiling hot juice in hot pint or quart jars to ¼ inch of top. Process in boiling water bath (212 degrees) 15 minutes.

PICCALILLI

- 5 green tomatoes
- 5 green peppers
- 2 sweet red peppers
- 5 medium onions
- 1 small cabbage
- ¼ cup salt
- 1 tablespoon whole cloves
- 1 tablespoon whole allspice
- 1 2-inch piece cinnamon stick

- 3 cups packed brown sugar
 - 1½ teaspoons celery seed
 - 1 tablespoon mustard seed
 - 2 cups cider vinegar
 - 1 teaspoon Tabasco
- Wash tomatoes; cut out stem ends; quarter lengthwise. Wash and seed peppers; halve, then quarter lengthwise. Peel and quarter onions. Quarter cabbage. Put tomatoes, red and green peppers, onions and cabbage through a food grinder, using the coarse blade. Sprinkle with salt. Cover and let stand overnight. Add cold water to cover; drain, discarding liquid. Turn into a large kettle. Place cloves, allspice and cinnamon stick in cheesecloth bag; add spice bag and remaining ingredients. Bring to the boiling point; reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes. Remove spice bag and put relish into clean, hot sterilized jars to within one inch of top. Pour hot paraffin over each and seal. Recipe makes 4 pints.

CHILI SAUCE

- 8 pounds (4 quarts) skinned ripe tomatoes, cut in pieces
 - 6 medium onions, chopped
 - 6 green peppers, chopped
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 2 tablespoons salt
 - 3 cups cider vinegar
 - 4 teaspoons whole cloves
 - 3 tablespoons whole allspice
 - 1 tablespoon Tabasco
- Combine tomatoes, onion, green pepper, sugar, salt and vinegar in deep kettle. Tie spices in cheesecloth bag; add to ingredients in kettle. Cook, uncovered 2½ to 3 hours, or until quite thick, stirring often. Remove spice bag; stir in Tabasco. Pour sauce at once into clean, hot sterilized jars; seal. Recipe makes about 5 pints.

CANNED TOMATOES

Use only perfect, ripe tomatoes. To loosen skins, dip into boiling water about ½ minute, then dip quickly into cold water. Cut out stem ends and skin tomatoes.

COLD PACK: Leave tomatoes whole or cut in halves or quarters. Pack in glass jars to ½ inch of top, pressing gently to fill spaces. Add no water. Add ½ teaspoon Tabasco and 1 teaspoon salt to quarts. Process in boiling water bath (212 degrees) pint jars, 35 minutes; quart jars, 45 minutes.

HOT PACK: Halve tomatoes. Do not add water, bring to a boil, stirring often. Pack in hot glass jars to ½ inch of the top. Add ½ teaspoon Tabasco and ½ teaspoon salt to pints; add ¼ teaspoon Tabasco and 1 teaspoon salt to quarts. Process in boiling water bath (212 degrees) pint jars, 10 minutes; quart jars, 10 minutes.

For plain canned tomatoes, allow about three pounds to make a quart or, to put it another way, one bushel makes about 18 quarts. Popular Piccalilli is a wonderful combination of relishes so welcome in winter. Homemade Chili Sauce is a favorite, too, especially with youngsters when it comes time to serve on hot dogs and hamburgers.

California Boasts Student On Its Board of Education

By DOUG WILLIS

ALAMO, Calif. (AP) — Barbara Marshment, the 16-year-old appointed this month to the California State Board of Education, is a straight-A student who frowns on campus disorder. Involvement in activities is important. But it's not the only thing. Learning in the classroom is important too." Barbara, a guitarist and a former pom-pom girl, is president of the junior class at Carondelet School in Concord, near Alamo. Both towns are Oakland suburbs.

Brighten Walls With Vinyl Tiles

An inexpensive way to brighten up wall areas is with self-adhering vinyl tiles that simulate elegant ceramics, and which anyone can press into place with no trouble or mess. Because they can be washed off repeatedly with soap or detergent, these tiles provide practical protection for surfaces which attract grease and splatters.

The Ailing House Vinegar Wipes Out 'Skunk'

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Here's how another de-skunking remedy came into the arena of tomato juice, ventilation and time. From our friend Mrs. Harold Hampel, Stevens Point, Wisconsin: "Your article on the aftermath of a skunk brought back memories of six years ago. My husband had let our old German shepherd dog out at about 5 a.m. In a few minutes he was tangling with a skunk in our back yard. He came whinnying and yelping to the door and my husband immediately let the dog in before he realized what had happened.

Backs Positive Action

Barbara helps her younger brothers and sisters wash the dishes, spends an hour every day practicing the piano, likes novels such as "Gone With the Wind" and makes about half of her own clothing. She attends a Catholic girls' school and hasn't had any first-hand contact with student activists but she gener-

New Federal Standards For Sherbets, Water Ices

BY ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — The confusing array of frozen dairy products and flavors is due to a new set of standards for "vanilla ice" which will have to conform to effect in November.

Established earlier this month all other products. For example, some vanilla cookies do not have to have pure vanilla in them. Sherbets and ices containing natural and artificial flavoring (which gives taste and body to frozen dairy products), from two to five per cent milk solids (protein, milk sugar, minerals and vitamins which provide smoothness) and must weigh at least six pounds per gallon. Fruit sherbets must contain at least two per cent fruit juice for citrus flavors, six per cent fruit juice for berry flavors and 10 per cent juice for other fruit flavors. When more than one fruit juice is used, the predominant one must be mentioned first on the label.

Water ice is not a dairy product because it contains no milk fat or milk solids but is essentially flavored and colored ice crystals. It must conform to the same flavoring rules as sherbert and weigh the same as sherbert: six pounds per gallon.

Stretched With Water

Ice milk must have at least two per cent but not more than seven per cent milk fat and at least 11 per cent milk solids. It must weigh at least four-and-one-half pounds per gallon. Ice milk is "stretched" with water. Ice cream must contain at least 10 per cent milk fat and 20 per cent milk solids and weigh the same as ice milk. Ice cream is air-whipped ("stretched") to nearly double its volume. Most ice cream has about 11 per cent milk fat; premium brands contain from 12 to 16 per cent fat.

The basic difference between dairy products is the proportion of milk fat. Next in importance is the quantity of milk solids. One of their greatest advantages is price stability. As of June, average prices of ice cream were still below what they were 10 years ago.

Minimium Type-Size

Non-fruit sherberts and ices

Essentially, the standards for containing artificial and natural labeling and composition follow flavorings other than vanilla those for other frozen dairy products. When they go into effect on Nov. 4, unless objected to before Oct. 5, any product labeled "vanilla sherbert" or "vanilla ice" will have to contain pure vanilla.

Incidentally, this applies to all frozen dairy products but not to vanilla cookies do not have to have pure vanilla in them.

Protect Dogwood Tree From Moths

A longtime and still effective way to chase away borer moths — which can injure and kill a young dogwood tree in just one year — is to tie a bar of laundry soap to the tree crotch. This advice comes from Lee Campbell of the Ohio Agricultural Research Center. Remember that dogwood borer moths emerge in late May and are most abundant about the end of June.

Christ Child Society Sponsors Study Camp

A four-day nature study camp for young adult retardates was sponsored by the Christ Child Society of Appleton the week of Sept. 8 at Pine Lake Lutheran Camp near Waupaca.

Purpose of the program was to provide the campers with opportunities for active participation in groups living away from home and family and to help them strive for a sense of independence and personal fulfillment.

While at camp, the 22 participants from the Fox River Valley lived, worked and shared with others of similar age and ability as they took part in nature hikes, nature crafts, camp fires, sing-a-longs, bingo, swimming boating and dancing. Highlight of the week was a guitar mass offered by the Rev. Dennis Leary.

Camp chairman was Mrs. William Mc Clenahan. Other Christ Child members attending camp were Mrs. C. E. Seghers and Mrs. John Christman. Serving as volunteer staff members were Mrs. Donald Day, campone of 36 in the United States nurse; Mrs. Jon Molline, water-devoted to helping children in front activities; Miss Cilla Kippenhan; Mrs. Martin Klepke; Vern Akins; William Reed; the Rev. Howard Knox, resident camp director, and Mrs. Knox. In the summer, the Christ Child Society sponsors a week long camp for retarded children. Criminal

His Deed

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
You don't have to call out the bloodhounds to detect the criminal in today's hand: South is clearly the criminal. But get out your magnifying glass to make sure that you spot exactly where he left the straight and narrow path.

Opening lead ~ ♣ Q

West opened the queen of clubs, and South won with the ace in order to lead a low trump as quickly as possible from his own hand. West took the ace of spades and led the jack of clubs.

Declarer played the king of clubs from dummy, and East ruffed. South still had to lose a club and a diamond, and he was eventually down one.

All of the evidence is in. Decide for yourself, before you read on, how South should have played the hand and where he committed his crime.

Correct Trump Play
It was correct for South to lead the first trump from his own hand. This made West accept only small trumps for his ace, leaving it possible for South to draw the jack and the ten of spades with dummy's queen and his own king.

If South had led the first trump from dummy he would have made the natural play of the king from his own hand, losing to the ace. Then East would have a natural trump trick, with either the jack or the ten.

South was in such a hurry to get to his own hand for a trump lead that he won the first club in the wrong hand. The correct play is to win the first trick with the king of clubs and then get to the South hand with the ace of hearts. This puts South in position to lead a low trump from his hand.

West takes the ace of trumps and leads the jack of clubs, but East can do no damage. If East ruffs, he gets only South's losing club, not a high club. The contract is safe, and nobody would call South a criminal.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one spade, and the next player bids two clubs. You hold: S-J 10 3 H-Q 10 5 2 D-Q 10 5 3 2 C-7. What do you say?
Answer: Pass. You would surely raise partner's suit if he had opened with one heart or one diamond, but your support for spades is a bit thin. Some experts would raise to two spades even with this hand, but the majority would pass.

Count the Birthday Cards To Win a Talking Globe

BY CAPPY DICK

How many birthday greetings did Tom, the boy in the picture, receive? If you count them correctly, you may become the winner of an exciting national contest, the Encyclopaedia Britannica "Talking Globe."

Five of these globes will be awarded in today's contest. Each one richly-colored reproduces the dramatic sounds of the earth — the roar of volcanoes, the rumble of earthquakes, the whistling of hurricanes, the roar of oceans, the blast of space ships and the drumbeat of rain. Your whole family can enjoy the educational "Talking Globe," if you win one.

There will be local preliminary prizes, too, one of which a contestant must win to assure plaques will be considered in the national judging. The local prize today is a wood plaque bearing the outline of an Indian chief. This plaque is suitable for coloring. Five will be awarded, one for each of the five nearest and most original contest entries received from boys and girls of the Fox Cities area. Entries winning these plaques will be considered, along with local entries from all other cities where this column appears, in the judges' search for the five grand prize winners.

To enter the contest, count all the envelopes in the picture representing a birthday greeting received by Tom. Clip out the picture and paste it on a sheet of paper. Print the number of envelopes beneath it, along with duction of the earth, showing your name, age, address and every country plus 6 400 places Zip number. Decorate your entry of importance. It is 12 inches in diameter, 38 inches in circumference, has a time dial so you can tell what time it is any where on earth, and it revolves two ways — at the poles and at the equator. That's not all. It also includes a 15-minute 33 1/3 RPM recording which reproduces the dramatic sounds of the earth — the roar of volcanoes, the rumble of earthquakes, the whistling of hurricanes, the roar of oceans, the blast of space ships and the drumbeat of rain. Your whole family can enjoy the educational "Talking Globe," if you win one.

Winners' names will be announced here. They will receive their prizes by mail. Judges' entries become Cappy Dick's Midweek Talking Globe Contest at the Post-Crescent.

Troop Withdrawals Arouse Congressmen

Group of House Republicans Asks for Deadline of Authority to Wage Struggle

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — A summer of discontent by many Republican congressmen over the slow pace of troop withdrawals is about to explode in a formal proposal to give President Nixon sign the repeal resolution. But that is not its real purpose. What the Republicans want is to give the President a clear, public message of their discontent with the pace of disengagement from the war.

Why Not Now?

Evans

on just 15 months to end U.S. participation in the war.

A group of house Republicans will circulate a letter soliciting co-sponsors for a resolution putting a deadline of Dec. 31, 1970, on the 1964 Tonkin Bay resolution. That resolution was adopted by Congress at President Johnson's request on Aug. 10, 1964, to cope with Communist activity in Vietnam's Tonkin Gulf. It is the statutory authority for waging the conflict in lieu of a declaration of war.

The Tonkin Bay resolution, of course, will not be repealed no matter how many Republicans

Throughout the summer, many Republicans in Congress and some inside the administration have privately grumbled that Mr. Nixon has listened too much to the U.S. military, the U.S. Embassy in Saigon, and President Thieu of South Vietnam. This discontent was fanned during the August recess when voters asked why, so long as the U.S. had no intention of winning the war, don't we get out right now?

Consequently, when Congress returned, two young, second-term Republicans — Reps. Donald Riegle, 31, of Michigan and Paul McCloskey, 41, of California — began devising a strategy to test congressional sentiment. McCloskey was elected to Congress as a Vietnam dove in a celebrated contest against Shirley Temple Black. But Riegle has come more gradually to his present hard-line war opposition. Until now, he has avoided public criticism of Mr. Nixon.

More significant other Republicans not in the peace vanguard have expressed deep interest in the Tonkin repeal resolution. Several of these will join Riegle and McCloskey in sponsoring the resolution. Sen. Mark Hatfield of Oregon has agreed to introduce it there, and additional Republican senate sponsors are being sought.

The strategy behind the Riegle-McCloskey move is to avoid overt provocation of the President that might make fellow Republicans feel guilty about disloyalty. Thus, no Democrats are wanted to sponsor the repeal. Further, a suggested provision to set a Dec. 31, 1970, deadline for mandatory withdrawal of all U.S. troops was omitted as overly harsh.

Assert Constitution The theme of the Republican repeal movement is not so much to criticize the President as to prod congress to assert its constitutional prerogatives.

Thus, a draft copy of the letter to be circulated says: "This action should not be interpreted as a challenge to the President; on the contrary, we believe it coincides with his expressed hope to de-Americanize the Vietnam war within a reasonable period of time. We do seek to restore the Constitutional obligation and responsibility of the Congress — and only the Congress — to determine when this country is to engage in war."

Nevertheless, the repeal movement will be intensely embarrassing to the President, a fact recognized inside the White House. Furthermore, there are signs that Vietnam, the question that wrecked the Democratic party in 1968, is potentially as divisive an issue for the Republicans.

Riegle has found this out just before the recess, when he completed a floor speech criticizing Congress for surrendering on Vietnam, a veteran conservative Republican called him and Last Wednesday when the discovery that catfish are an exportable commodity

Leola Garriott's Pie Does It Again

It did it again, the beautiful and delicious Choco-Cherry-Honey Pie that took first place honors in the June Dairy Recipe contest for Outagamie County.

This time, the original recipe of Dr. Leola Garriott, Hortonville, won first place Monday in the regional bake-off held each fall by WBAY-TV. This also is the first time an Outagamie County winner has come out first in the regional bake-off.

It seems the members of Mrs. Garriott's family watching in the audience were more nervous about the televised contest than the cook, who admits she enjoyed making her pie in front of both a seen and unseen audience. "I'm really a 'ham' at heart," she confided as she talked about her win over 10 other county winners in the Northeastern area of the state.

She really didn't expect to be the winner, although she said her pie was the most colorful of the lot. Bright with red maraschino cherries outlining and forming a star shape in a topping of white whipped cream, the pie is one of those "easy ones to make that look pretty."

The recipe for her pie dessert originated with an older basic one which she used to serve in the 1940s at cording to her family, and she and her sister, Mrs. Victor Schmit, also of Hortonville, often keep a running, friendly rivalry going with their recipe and food swaps. Both families approve and abet this custom because they get to test the results, which always are good and often better than good, they all say. (Mrs. Schmit was a contestant in the June contest sponsored by Outagamie Farm Bureau Women with her recipe for Dairy Fruit Supreme Pie among the six chosen from the county-wide field of entries.)

To help those who may have missed clipping the Garriott recipe in June, here it is again. Only this time it's a regional winner.

CHOCO-CHERRY HONEY PIE

$\frac{3}{4}$ cup vanilla wafer crumbs
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cup chocolate wafer crumbs
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
1 tablespoon wheat germ
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup melted butter

2 tablespoons strained honey
3 ounces Philadelphia cream cheese
15 ounces canned condensed, sweetened milk
 $\frac{1}{3}$ cup lemon juice
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon almond extract
1 can (1-pound can) unsweetened pie cherries, drained

Whipping cream

Whole maraschino cherries with stems
To make the crust: Mix together crumbs, sugar and wheat germ. Add melted butter and mix well. Reserve two tablespoons of mixture for garnish, if desired.

Put crumbs into 9-inch pie plate; press into place. Bake in preheated, 350-degree oven for 10 minutes. Remove from oven and cool.

To make the filling: Beat honey in small bowl until white and creamy. Gradually add cream cheese, which should be at room temperature before using. Beat until smooth. Stir in sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice and almond extract; mix together until well blended. Add the drained cherries; mix thoroughly. Place mixture in pie shell, chill several hours or least an hour.

Whip cream, then use cream for garnish along with crumbs and maraschino cherries with stems. Recipe makes six servings.

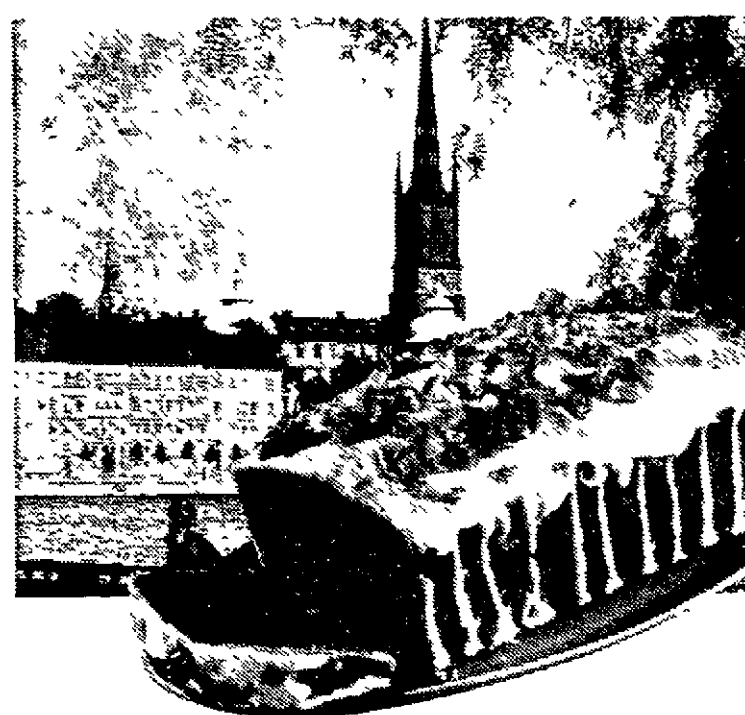

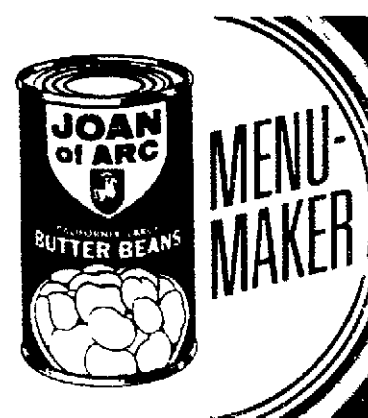

Winner Leola Garriott, of Hortonville, holds the pie that brought her first place and a dishwasher prize at the annual regional bake-off for Wisconsin dairy recipes at the WBAY-TV auditorium in Green Bay. The program was televised live.

Ladies Aid Society meetings at Bethlehem Lutheran Church. "I just expanded that old recipe a little to make it fit the requirements for June Dairy month," she said. The combination of lemon juice, red cherries and sweetened condensed milk was borrowed from the old recipe, with Mrs. Garriott adding the touch of almond extract, the strained honey and the cream cheese to make it "different and dairy."

The crust is one she evolved through experimentation, again in a search for a different crumb crust. The result is a pleasing combination of vanilla wafer crumbs and chocolate wafer crumbs with a tablespoon of wheat germ, sugar and butter added to it.

The topping shows her flair for decorating and her firm belief that food should always "look good" to be appreciated. Her dishes seldom get turn-downs at home.

Although Mrs. Garriott is a professional woman, in chiropractice with her husband, Dr. G. A. Garriott, she finds the time to keep up with cooking. She's an excellent cook, ac-

'The Dali Alice' Is Latest Status Symbol

By MILES A. SMITH
NEW YORK (AP) — The newest venture in the book world combines a literary classic with the original art of Salvador Dali, at $375 a copy. It is such a hot item that it is being rationed to bookstores across the nation.

The classic is Lewis Carroll's "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland." Remember how Alice fell down the rabbit hole and met all sorts of odd creatures, such as the Dormouse and the Mad Hatter? Accompanying the text is a set of original graphics by Dali. The illustrations are original works of art—not reproductions.

The work is known as "The Dali Alice." It is being distributed now in an edition of 2,500 copies, plus 200 special copies at $750 each, jointly published by Random House and Maecenas Press.

Already a Status Symbol
Even before its official publication date of Nov. 5, it is a status symbol. For the first time, Random House has limited its distribution to a certain number of copies for each city.

Buffalo, N.Y., has been allocated 5 copies. There are 10 each available for Austin, Tex., Phoenix, Ariz., and the Tampa-St. Petersburg area of Florida. There are 15 each available for Indianapolis, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Nashville, Columbus, New Orleans, Salt Lake City and Portland, Ore.

The figures go high for nearly a score of larger cities, topping off with 100 in Boston, 125 in San Francisco-Oakland, 150 in Chicago, 200 in Los Angeles and 550 in New York City.

Comes in Case
In physical appearance "The Dali Alice" is different from the usual book. Its pages are not sewn together, and there is no binding. The text pages and the art pages—all of them 11½ by 17 inches, on specially made rag paper—lie in a silk-lined "case-portfolio."

Dali has illustrated the text with what are known in the art trade as "mixed media original graphics."

A graphic is a work of art in multiple copies, such as prints or etchings, or a combination of several processes. Working with a copper plate, an artist may create an etching and then print over it with a woodcut, the result being "mixed media."

Illustrations in the usual "art book" are reproductions—not originals.

For each of the 12 chapters of "Alice," Dali colors a gravure in 6 to 12 colors, upon which is superimposed the impression of a woodcut. The 13th illustration is a color etching opposite the title page, portraying the artist's conception of Alice.

The 200 special copies contain a double set of the illustrations, in a full leather portfolio. The extra set is for possible framing.

"The Dali Alice," newest venture in the book publishing world, is examined by a Random House employee. The book combines Lewis Carroll's classic, "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland," with illustrations by surrealist artist Salvador Dali. The publisher, Random House, says it is so popular that copies are being rationed. (AP Wirephoto)

Your Problems

Chauffeur Tells Her to Ride Bus

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: While waiting for a bus on a morning in November, 1967 an attractive man asked me if I wanted a ride. I said yes, because it was raining very hard and I was late for work. He turned out to be a respectable family man and I was grateful for the lift.

Since that time he has picked me up on the same corner almost every morning. I figure he has saved me over $150 in bus fare.

Yesterday I was just about to get in his car when he handed me a note, slammed the door shut and left me standing there, literally dumbfounded. The note read: "Dear Passenger: I have enjoyed your conversation for a long time. I am afraid, however, that the animal in me is beginning to gnaw upon the man. Lest I find myself weakening in the manner of others who have hit the foolish forties, I respectfully suggest that you get back on the bus." It was signed, "Your friendly chauffeur."

I was flabbergasted and still am. Do you think he was trying to tell me something? If so what was his message? —Donnabelle

Dear D.: I don't think we need to page Marshall Luhan for this one. The message was — "You're beginning to look good to me, Kid, and I don't want to get involved, so please avail yourself of public transportation."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I married a man who comes from a closely knit family. By that I mean they tell each other everything. At first I thought the family closeness was beautiful, but now I see it is a neurotic dependence and largely infantile. My husband is the worst of the bunch.

Two weeks ago we were told the tragic news that my father-in-law has a terminal illness. My mother-in-law has already made it clear that she cannot live alone. Her oldest son's wife does not get along with her so she is safe. My other sister-in-law has a three-bedroom home and four children, so she is also safe. My husband and I have an extra bedroom.

Twice I have heard my husband say to his mother, "Don't worry, mamma, you won't have to live alone." If this means the end of our marriage, I love my husband and we have two darling children but I could never tolerate his mother under this roof. Any suggestions? —Trouble Brewing

Dear T.B.: Your mother-in-law needs kindness and emotional support. It is your husband's responsibility to help her through this difficult period in her life. His principal responsibility, however, is to his wife and children. Remind him that it is unfair to make promises that he will be unable to live up to later. And I urge you to be specific so there will be no misunderstanding.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: If a man is divorced and remarried, is it in good taste for his ex-wife to come to his father's funeral, sit in the front row, cry louder than anybody, go to the cemetery, stand at the graveside with the family, then show up at her ex-sister-in-law's house and drink coffee and eat cake? Or should she go to the funeral parlor very early or very late to avoid the crowd and stay in the background, out of the limelight? —V.G.

Dear V.G.: It depends on whether or not she wants an audience.

Drinking may be "in" to the kids you run with—but it can put you "out" for keeps. You can cool it and stay popular. Read "Booze and You—for Teen-Agers Only." Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Copyright, 1968)

Oshkosh and Fond du Lac 1-2 in AP Poll

First Prep Ratings Show La Follette Taking Third Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It might be a new production, but the script is very familiar. Oshkosh and Fond du Lac, those old Fox Valley Conference rivals, are at it again, producing the top high school football in the state while preparing for the BIG game.

In the first Associated Press prep football poll of the season, Oshkosh received 53 points to finish first. Fond du Lac was second with 36 points while two Madison powers, La Follette and East, are third and fourth, respectively.

Dodgers Beat Reds Twice

Marichal Blanks Braves

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

Bacon and eggs... ham and swiss... lettuce and tomatoes. None of them go together as well as Juan Marichal and Candlestick Park.

Marichal, the high-kicking right-hander, pitched the San Francisco Giants into first place in the National League's hectic West Division race Tuesday night, beating Atlanta 2-0 on a four-hitter.

It was routine, almost automatic for Marichal, who is virtually unbeatable in Candlestick Park. The victory gave him a 13-1 record at home this season. He is 19-10 over-all, meaning away from home, Juan's mark is a somewhat mediocre 6-9.

Elsewhere in the National League Tuesday, Chicago tripped Montreal 5-4, San Diego drubbed Houston 8-1, Pittsburgh downed Philadelphia 9-5 and Los Angeles swept a double-header from Cincinnati, winning the opener 2-1 and taking the nightcap 3-2 in 12 innings. New York's game at St. Louis was postponed by rain.

The shutout was the eighth this season for Marichal, tops in the National League, and his sixth at Candlestick. He has allowed just one run in his last 45 innings pitched at home.

Hot-hitting Willie Mays drilled three hits and doubled home one of the two San Francisco runs. The other came on consecutive second inning singles by Ken Henderson, Jack Hatt and Hal Lanier.

It was the eighth consecutive complete game for Marichal.

and his 25th route-going effort in the last 33 starts.

The victory moved the Giants back into first place and completed a four-day move from fourth place to first in the West. LA's sweep moved the Dodgers into second place, one-half game behind the Giants and one percentage point ahead of the Braves.

Wes Parker drove in all three Dodger runs in the nightcap victory including the winner on a 12th inning single after Ted Sizemore had doubled and reached third on a fielder's choice.

The Dodgers rallied for two runs in the ninth inning to take the opener. The first run scored on a bases-loaded walk to Willie Crawford and the second on Johnny Bench's throwing error as the Cincinnati catcher attempted an inning-ending double play. Bench's double had driven in the game's first run with an eighth inning double.

San Diego dealt another jolt to Houston's waning hopes, tagging the Astros with their sixth consecutive loss. Tommie Sisk coasted on a seven-litter with Nate Colbert and rookie Ron Slocum slamming home runs.

The loss left the fifth place Astros six games behind the Giants with just 16 games remaining. Chicago used home runs by rookie Oscar Gamble and veteran Billy Williams to beat Montreal. The victory combined with the Mets' routout at St. Louis, moved the Cubs back to within four games of New York. The

Bart Johnson Wins for White Sox

McNally Hurls, Bats Orioles to Win

By MIKE BRYSON Associated Press Sports Writer

You'll have to give Dave McNally credit for one thing—he'll do anything to shake off a losing streak... even get a hit. McNally, who had produced only six hits all season and an abemic .071 average going into the game, singled home the only run as Baltimore nipped the Washington Senators 1-0 Tuesday night.

It gave the left-hander his second straight victory—the first time since his 17-game two-season victory string was snapped Aug. 3 that he's managed to string together that many triumphs.

brew took another big step toward winning the American League homer title away from Frank Howard and Reggie Jackson by walloping his 44th of the season—a three-run shot—in leading Minnesota past Oakland 11-3.

Increased Lead That increased the Twins' lead over the A's to 10 games in the AL West and cut Minnesota's magic number for clinching the crown to just six.

In other games, Cleveland Killebrew, who was 6-for-6 with four homers and 12 RBI in the three games with the A's before his sixth inning strikeout, lofted his three-run homer into the left field pavilion in the first inning.

McNally, who won his first 15 games this season, boosted his record to 19-6, although he needed Ed Watt to get the last Senator out.

His clincher was a bloop single to center in the sixth, scoring Merv Rettenmund, who had singled. McNally also sent Howard to the fence in left for his clincher with the bases loaded and two out in the second, and led off the fifth with a double although he didn't score.

Killebrew, who was 6-for-6 with four homers and 12 RBI in the three games with the A's before his sixth inning strikeout, lofted his three-run homer into the left field pavilion in the first inning.

It raised his major league leading RBI total to 134 and put the stocky slugger just two away from the AL homer leading totals of Oakland's Jackson and Howard.

Consecutive Homers John Roseboro, with his third homer, and Leo Cardenas, No. 10, came up with consecutive solo homers in the fourth to add to the rout.

The Twins then put it out of doubt with six runs in the fifth, when Rod Carew drove in two runs with a triple, Cesar Tovar with a single and winner Jim Perry, 19-6, and Cardenas, one each with singles.

Despite the sweep of the series, McNally was not

Saturday's Games: Kimberly at Kaukauna

BY JIM HARP Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A pair of unbeaten neighborhood rivals, Kimberly and Kaukauna, will clash in the feature game of the Mid-Eastern Conference this weekend.

The title-flavored contest will take place at the Kaukauna gridiron Saturday afternoon. The remainder of the M-E teams will be in action Friday night, as Menasha travels to Clintonville and Shawano will be at New London.

Defending champion Two Rivers draws the bye this week but will be playing a non-conference game Friday night against Menominee, Mich.

Solid Contention The winner of the Papermaker-Ghost clash will go into solid contention for the league crown. Kimberly has been particularly impressive in downing Little Chute St. John and Clintonville to date. The Ghosts opened with a 21-16 victory over DePere. Abbot Pennings and last week moped Menasha, 6-0.

The Papermakers have rolled up 30 points in each of their victories and a tough defense has allowed only eight markers. Kaukauna features a versatile attack on offense. The Ghosts piled up 193 yards passing against Pennings with two aeri-als going for touchdowns and last week the Kaukauna backfield corps ran for 233 yards against the Bluejays.

Coach Ken Roloff will have to pull out all stops in his offense Saturday to get by the strong Papermaker defense. Kimberly limited Clintonville to only 20 yards rushing in a 30-8 victory last Friday night and the strong rush of the Papermaker front wall dumped Trucker quarterback for losses on seven occasions.

Initial Victory Menasha and Clintonville will both be looking for their initial victory in the conference following setbacks last weekend. The Jays will have to contain the Clintonville offense which features a strong passing attack. Letterman Pat Ziegler been 104 yards by Ken Hall of and junior Randy Nelson shared the quarterbacking for Clinton-1960, the first year of the AFL. He had a total of nine for aerial against Kimberly. The 192 yards. He has 132 yards in times against the Papermakers one professional game.

New London and Shawano, also of Miami, was next with also will be eyeing a loftier spot one return for 37 yards.

in the standings. It will be the first conference start for the Indians of Shawano who have dropped a pair of non-conference clashes.

Narrow Decision

The Bulldogs dropped a narrow, 7-6 decision to Two Rivers last week and outplayed the defending champions nearly all the way. New London threatened to score on several occasions and did have one touchdown called back because of a penalty.

The Bulldogs displayed a good offense piling up 197 yards. The New London defense also did a good job against the Purple Raiders holding Two Rivers to 58 yards rushing and 36 yards by passing. Eight penalties offset the good work of the New London unit and frequently stalled drives.

Shawano dropped a 14-7 decision to Sheboygan Falls in its season opener and last week was dealt a 33-16 setback by a strong Waupaca squad.

Turner Takes Scoring Lead

Kicker for Jets Has 15 Points After One Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Turner of the New York Jets, the American Football League's leading scorer last year, is kicking up a storm again and Eugene Morris, a winged-heeled rookie with the Miami Dolphins, is showing he wasn't nicknamed "Mercury" for nothing.

Turner, who scored 145 points for the World Champion Jets last year with his valuable right foot, kicked four field goals and three extra points in the Jets' 33-19 opening victory against Buffalo to take the early scoring lead with 15 points, according to AFL statistics released today.

105 Yard Return

In Miami's 27-21 loss to Cincinnati, running back Morris registered the second best kickoff return in AFL history with a 105-yard touchdown run in the first quarter. Only one man has carried further in this capacity — Kansas City's little Noland Smith, who returned 106 yards against Denver two years ago. Previously, the second-best had been Letterman Pat Ziegler, who returned 104 yards by Ken Hall of and junior Randy Nelson shared the quarterbacking for Clinton-1960, the first year of the AFL. He had a total of nine for aerial against Kimberly. The 192 yards. He has 132 yards in times against the Papermakers one professional game.

Wide receiver Eugene Milton, also of Miami, was next with also will be eyeing a loftier spot one return for 37 yards.

Good Running Attack

Packer Scout Says Offense of Bears Greatly Improved

BY LEE REMMEL Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — "The Bears," Wally Cruce said solemnly, "are better than they were last year."

"Super scout" made this somewhat sobering pronouncement Tuesday during a visit to the Packer dressing room for the purpose of briefing the home forces on their initial National Football League opponents who rumble into Lambeau Field Sunday afternoon.

The Bruins, the Green and Gold recall were sufficiently anti-social in 1968. They forged a 13-10 victory in their first meeting here on a last minute, free kick field goal by Mac Percival, which still rankles in Packer breasts, and then staged a bristling comeback before submitting 28-27, in a December rematch at Chicago.

Potent Offense

Cruce pointed to a more potent offense as the primary ingredient in the Midway Monsters' improvement, an appraisal which the statistics of their pre-season finale against the St. Louis Cardinals document. The Bears rolled up 432 yards in that one, 232 via the passing arm of quarterback Jack Concannon, in which they lost 37-31 because their customarily tight-fisted defense had a rare off day.

"They've got a real good running attack," Wally said, in Ronnie Bul, Gale Sayers, and Brian Piccolo, plus Mike Hull and Ross Montgomery, a rookie, they're loaded there.

"They also have a better than average offensive line, with Jim Cadlie, Mike Pyle, and Randy Jackson, who is an improved player for them."

Passing Game

"They had been hurting in their passing game because of split end Bob Wallace was in service, but he's back now and they also picked up (Eppie) Barney from the Steelers. And, of course, Dick Gordon is as good as a receiver as there is in the league."

Concannon, he added, also has contributed mightily to the Bears' upsurge on attack. "He has improved himself a lot," Cruce said, respect in his tone. "He's playing a more of a control game — he didn't roll out as much against the Cardinals as he has in the past."

"Needless to say, of course, they're strong defensively (Dick) Butkus was hurt most of last year, so he couldn't play with his normal abandon. But there's nothing wrong with him this year and he's playing extremely well.

They also have been using a boy named Willie Holman in their front four — he's an end they moved to tackle — and he's really helped. He gives

Bretczynski Leads Ships In CC Victory

Neenah Runs 2nd, Appleton East 3rd In 10-Team Meet

Manitowoc, behind Doug Bretczynski's first-place finish, captured the 10-team Kaukauna Invitational Cross Country Meet at Oakwood Hills Tuesday afternoon.

The Ships finished with 20 points to beat Neenah, which placed second with 45 on the strength of 2-3-4 individual finishers.

Appleton East took the third spot with 133 points, followed by Oshkosh, 110; Appleton West, 115. Little Chute St. John, 155; Kaukauna, 173; New London, 210; Menasha, 236; and Two Rivers, 244.

Bretczynski won in a time of 10 minutes, 25 seconds. Neenah's Doug Angerer was next in 10:46, and Angerer's teammates George Steed and Don Gullickson finished in three second intervals behind.

Appleton East's top finisher was Tom Werner in 18th place, and Luke DeYoung came home 18th. Steve Dercks' 13th place finish topped the Appleton West contingent, and Dick Schoenbohm took 16th.

Top St. John finisher was Jeff Driessen in the 23rd spot, and Marv Janssen was 26th. Kaukauna's best place was a 17th by James Sprangers while Bob Kneepkens took 20th.

Steve Trauger's 15th place headed New London's team. Bruce Davis took 24th. Menasha was paced by Russ Rae and Ban Nichols, who ran 32nd and 27th in the field, respectively.

Four unbeaten teams — Denmark, Hortonville, Reedsville and Winnecoonne — currently head the Little Nine Conference standings, and the league picture isn't likely to change after this weekend's slate of contests.

All four of the leaders will be favored to increase their early-season records to 3-0 when they clash with second-division opponents.

Denmark, the highest scoring outfit in the conference with 74 points in two games, should have an easy time with Omro Friday night if the clubs put on performances similar to their initial outings.

The Vikings have rolled to 36-8 and 38-0 routs of Shiocton and Hilbert, respectively, behind hard-running backs Nick Metz and Greg Braun. The Foxes struggled to a 6-6 tie with Hilbert, then, last week, suffered a 34-0 drubbing by defending co-champion Brillion.

Comeback Win

Hortonville had to come from behind in the last 53 seconds on an 87-yard pass combination of Jeff Uike to Ted Meyer to edge Freedom, 12-8, but the Polar Bears aren't likely to get that much of an argument from the circuit's other defending co-champ, Wrightstown, in a meeting at Hortonville Friday night.

The Tigers, in a rebuilding season, have been on the short end of lopsided 40-0 and 36-0 scores against Winnecoonne and Reedsville, respectively. In its first game, Hortonville got past Brillion, 14-6.

If Shiocton has any upset plans in its visit to Reedsville Saturday, the Chiefs had better find a way to stop the Panthers' nifty Jeff Barnard. Barnard has scored seven touchdowns in his team's 32-0 and 36-0 blankings of Freedom and Wrightstown, respectively. In addition to their loss to Denmark, the Chiefs took a 26-6 slap from Winnecoonne last week.

Not Pressed

Winnecoonne hasn't been pressed, either, in romping over Wrightstown and Shiocton. Quarterback Mike Johnson and sophomore running back Dave Koneman have led the attack.

Hilbert will have to look better than it has in tying Omro and losing badly to Denmark if it hopes to derail Winnecoonne Saturday.

In the league's remaining contest, Brillion (1-1) will go looking for its second victory against Freedom on the Lions' home field Friday night. The Lions, after the romp over Omro, could be in high gear for the Irish, who may still be thinking about last week's near-miss against Hortonville.

Winnecoonne's Koneman is the league's leader with 288 yards in 22 carries while Denmark's Greg Braun is right behind with 227 yards in 32 attempts.

Reedsville's Bruce Behnke has been the most effective through the air with 12 completions in 16 attempts for 283 yards. Shiocton's Dick Clausen is runnerup with 238 yards on the strength of 23 completions in 48 attempts. Hortonville's Ted Meyers has four catches good for 123 yards to lead in the receiving department.

Reedsville's Barnard has tallied 46 points, 12 more than Denmark's Metz.

John Diestler Tops FVGC Loop

KAUKAUNA — John Diestler fired a 1-under-par 35 to lead golfers in the Fox Valley Golf Club Twilight League. Wayne Hull and Pete Benson shared runnerup honors, with scores of 36.

Hitting a stroke over par were Ves Hanby and Tom Hanby. Hyland House increased its lead to four points in the First Flight Division.

PACKER POTPOURRI

By LEE REMMEL

Henry Jordan, ever quick with a quip, couldn't resist. "What do I think of our chances? I just borrowed $25,000," he drawled, with a sly smile. "I'll pay it back with the Super Bowl check. . . . Funny thing, the bank went along with it."

The balding Virginian, who has been crashing enemy backfields with his old abandon this pre-season, then addressed himself to the matter in a more serious vein as he relaxed in a quiet corner of the Packer dressing room.

"I really think we have a good chance at the title," he said, with obvious sincerity. But he hastened to point. "However, we haven't beaten anyone of renown yet this year. They're all good teams, but we've had a good record against the Browns and, then, of course, we beat Pittsburgh and Atlanta after beating Cleveland. . . . So we actually haven't beaten anybody."

Have Familiar Feeling

"Now we go up against the Bears in our league opener Sunday and, let's face it, they're a tremendous ball team, particularly when they play the Packers."

Despite this sobering thought, Henry admits he and his veteran colleagues have that familiar feeling.

"So many of the oldtimers are thinking championship," he said. "It's bound to be contagious with the younger players. ow if the fans will start thinking championship, it's going to help. You have to have that winning attitude so that if you don't win the championship, you still will have a good year.

"The last two games, I've sensed that certain feeling in the dressing room before the game," the 13-year campaigner continued. "It's hard to describe, but it's in the air. It's a feeling that you have everything under control. Nobody says it, but it's there."

"I hope," he grinned, "it's true."

"It's just like when we won the three championships in a row. We never thought about losing. It's not that you're not nervous, but you just know you're going to do it."

On a personal basis, the Pack's premier recontour and after-dinner speaker is understandably pleased over his comeback from a long and frustrating 1968 season.

Jordan, troubled by back miseries last year, attributes his rejuvenation to "my chiropractor friend, Dr. Alex Cox of Mt. Horeb. He got me back in shape. He got my hips and lower back straightened out. It hasn't given me any trouble so far — I hope it doesn't."

"I had a dislocated rib earlier this year, too. If Dr. Cox hadn't put that back in place, I couldn't have played."

'Moving Very Well'

Approximately 10 pounds lighter than he was in '68, Henry says, "I feel as quick as I was three or four years ago. I'm moving very well, although half the time it's in the wrong direction. That's because my reactions aren't what they should be yet."

"I'd like to say," he added

Red Wings Send Mahovlich for Exam at Hospital

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — Frank Mahovlich, Detroit Red Wing forward, was sent to University Hospital in Ann Arbor Tuesday for examination of what was believed to be a piece of bone floating in his left knee.

Results of the examination were not available immediately, but Coach Bill Gadsby said the condition was believed to be minor. If it were not minor, Gadsby said, the club wanted to get any required surgery out of the way so Cahovlich would miss a minimum of the National Hockey League schedule.

Mahovlich plays on Detroit's No. 1 line with Gordie Howe and Alex Delvecchio.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Juan Marichal, Giants, pitched a four-hitter for his 19th victory, beating Atlanta 2-0 and moving San Francisco into first place in the National League's West Division.

significantly, "the whole defensive line is moving quick. I think Lionel (Aldridge) is in the best shape he's ever been in and moving well. Willie D. (Davis) is not hurting, so he's the same old all-pro at the other end."

"And Rich Moore's got to help you, he's so big. I'm hoping it's going to take two men to stop him. And Ray Nitschke is the same old Ray Nitschke — he's as tough as ever. The whole defense looks pretty good."

"The offense also looks better than it has in a long time. They're really moving the ball."

"The defense, I might add, is real proud of Travis Williams. He's using his head now, as well as his legs."

Sounds Super, Henry.

Midwest Swami Liska Picks UW to Lose, MSU to Win

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — The Midwest Swami stows away his "Cub Power" button and switches to his version of football's triple option — win, lose or draw.

Michigan State 20, Washington 13 — Coach Duffy Daugherty of MSU's Spartans tabs the Huskies probably the nation's biggest college football team. However, brilliant linebacker Rich Saul is back in shape and the Spartans are raring to try Daugherty's "veer option" triggered by able quarterback Bill Triplett.

Indiana 19, Kentucky 14 — The Hoosiers are unleashing Harry Gosno, John Isenbarger and Jade Butcher as senior ring-leaders of another stab at the Rose Bowl assignment they achieved two years ago. Kentucky makes its debut under former Notre Dame defensive coaching whiz, Johnny Ray.

Michigan 21, Vanderbilt 7 — New Coach "Bo" Schembechler has the makings of a Michigan club which could swirl to a strong Rose Bowl run. One rival conference coach rates unseasoned Wolverine quarterback Don Moorhead better than graduated Dennis Brown. Michigan will miss Ron Johnson, but sophomore Glenn Doughty is a fancy step-per and the Wolverines will be strong in the air.

Notre Dame 28, Northwestern 14 — The Irish will resort to a cloud-of-dust offense with the departure of the Terry Hanratty-to-Jim Seymour battery. But scampering quarterback Joe Theismann should keep rival defenses loose. Northwestern comes out passing from the opening whistle, behind veteran Dave Shelbourne, and could stay in the game.

Arizona State 14, Minnesota 13 — Too much, too soon for Minnesota's rebuilding Gophers. It's a night game but in hot Arizona weather and the spurring Sun Devils have an edge in speed. The Gophers have battering power in Jim Carter and Barry Mayer, if a mended offensive line can spring them.

Purdue 19, Texas Christian 14 — Counting on the strong arm of talented Boilermaker quarterback Mike Phipps and a rugged defense, The Horned Frogs are mighty proud of running back Big Boo Bulaich.

Illinois 18, Washington State 14 — A match of rookie quarterbacks — Illini Steve Livas against Cougar Chuck Hawthorne. It's another rebuilding year for the Illini, who may need a couple of games to get the hang of the triple option.

Iowa 20, Oregon State 13 — Oregon State may have learned some lessons in a 37-0 trimming by UCLA last week, but the Hawkeyes should control their opener behind gifted quarterback Larry Lawrence. Iowa's problem is finding a fallback to replace motorcycle-wrecked Tom Sullivan.

Oklahoma 28, Wisconsin 13 — This is the wrong spot for the rebuilt Badgers to try snapping, 14 — The Irish will resort to a two-season losing streak. The nationally sixth-ranked Sooners boast a Heisman Trophy candidate in tailback Steve Owens. At least, Grape Fruit Johnson should keep rival and other touted Badger soph defenses loose. Northwestern will be breaking in before the home folk.

Oshkosh and Fond du Lac 1-2 in AP Poll

with 10 points awarded to a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Auburndale First

In the "little ten" rankings, Auburndale edged out Gale-Erick for the top spot, 49-48, while Durand, always a powerhouse, was a close third with 45 points.

Both Oshkosh and Fondy have swept past two opponents this season, taking a dead aim on the FVC title and the AP laurels which Oshkosh captured last year.

In the final poll last season, Madison East was second behind Oshkosh, and Fond du Lac was third, its only loss suffered to (whom else?) Oshkosh.

This season, behind East comes Antigone, Madison Edgewood, Eau Claire Memorial and a three-way tie for eighth between Two Rivers, Green Bay East and Milwaukee Tech.

In the "little ten," Peshtigo is fourth, followed by Royall, Darlington, North Crawford, Denmark, Waupaca and St. Croix Central.

Peshtigo is the only rated school to have a blemish on its record. But the Bulldogs' tie with a big school, Oconto, can be considered a mark of victory.

Oh, yes: Oshkosh and Fond du Lac clash on Oct. 24 at Fondy, the last game of the season for both teams.

Redskins Get Rid Of A. D. Whitfield And Sonny Randle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The San Francisco 49ers, in a surprise move, cut center Bruce Bosley, a 14-year National Football League veteran, Tuesday and went one under the 40-man limit.

The 49ers also put linebacker Jim Sniadecki of Indiana, fourth-round pick in this year's draft pending the outcome of a draft physical and cut Momcilo Gavric, kicker from Yugoslavia: Tommy Manning, running back from Jackson State, and defensive end Tom Holzer.

Washington sprang a mild surprise by cutting veteran running back A. D. Whitfield.

Coach Vince Lombardi also dropped receiver Sonny Randle — and offensive tackle Jim Boeke.

Whitfield, 5-foot 10, 220 pounds, gained 72 yards on 17 carries during pre-season games.

Randle, a nine-year NFL veteran, three times caught more than 60 passes in a season and twice scored 15 touchdowns.

Boeke, a 10-year veteran, was picked up by the Redskins after being placed on waivers by Detroit.

Stonebreaker Waived

In other cuts, the New Orleans Saints waived veteran linebacker Steve Stonebreaker to make room for defensive back Bobby Thompson who was picked up from Detroit.

Stonebreaker, an eight-year veteran, was acquired from the Baltimore Colts in the 1967 expansion draft.

The Cleveland Browns placed injured Jim Kanicki on waivers and cut three other players. Kanicki fractured his left leg in Saturday's exhibition game against Minnesota and is expected to be out for half the season.

Bears Cut 4

The Chicago Bears released four players—defensive back Tom Greenlee from Washington; Robert Breitenstein, a guard from Tulsa; Ted Wheeler, a guard from West Texas State; and veteran defensive back Clendon Thomas.

Three veterans and a rookie were trimmed by the Philadelphia Eagles.

Rich, Relaxed U. S. Team Set

12-Man Squad in Easy-Going Practice For British Matches

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — The 42-year-old Ryder Cup got around today to the simple question of whether the relaxed rich will win again or will the battling poor pull off an upset.

The 12-man American professional team, which has won $1.5 million this year, scratched around Royal Birkdale's 7,140-yard par 74 golf course as though on holiday.

There being no money at stake, they acted like kids—except for one.

Jack Nicklaus, 29, of Columbus, Ohio, who already is rich but made the Ryder Cup team for the first time only this year crushed Birkdale's punishing back nine in six under par Tuesday afternoon and then promptly went back to the practice tee.

"I've had no match play competition since the Walker Cup a long time ago and I want to prove myself on this," the blond bomber said.

Sam Snead, the nonplaying American captain, watched the practice just to decide as he said "who to leave out and who to leave in."

Must Set Formations

That means which formation the Americans will present in foursome, four-balls and singles matches from Thursday to Saturday in the Anglo-American competition unique in golf history.

The British, spurred by Scottish captain Eric Brown, sharpened their games in serious, dour fashion.

The Americans relaxed. Lee Trevino, the 1968 U.S. Open champion, hit five irons off a practice tee and told jokes.

Ken Stoll of Tacoma, Wash., and Raymond Floyd, the 1969 PGA champion from Fort Bragg, N.C., had a go in the local gambling casino.

The whole atmosphere was one of the rich assured they would win because this is how they got rich, and the poor battling to prove something else.

First Baseman Chico Ruiz of Cincinnati tries to smother a bad throw that got through his legs, allowing the winning run to score for the Dodgers in the ninth inning at Los Angeles Tuesday night. The Reds Woody Woodward fielded the ground ball hit by Jim Lefebvre

(5) and forced a runner at the plate, but catcher Johnny Bench's throw to first for the double play lost the game. The Dodgers scored a 2-1 victory in the first game of a doubleheader and also won the second contest, 3-2. (AP Wirephoto)

Here's Elinor

Sherman Firing Called Horrendous; Buffalo Rookies Get Big Shave

BY ELINOR KAINE

It was a breezy afternoon a week ago, sunny and 70, and O. J. Simpson was talking about life as a Buffalo rookie by the Bills' practice field. O. J. was wearing a yellow cotton shirt and a navy blue knitted wool stocking cap. I remembered what he said, after the Bills drafted him, about Buffalo, and how icy and snowy the weather there is, but on such a beautiful, sunny afternoon wasn't O. J. overdoing it? Did he really need that wool cap and did he have to pull it down over his ears?

"We shaved the rookies' heads yesterday," explained a bystander, punter Paul Maguire, the Richard Harris of the north woods with a bristling red mustache and a hair no-cut to match. "There are ten rookies here this year. Of course, I didn't do any of the shaving myself. I watched, and enjoyed."

O. J. smiled weakly. Did you fight or squirm? "If you squirm they get you worse," said Simpson, "and get part of your head too." Maguire smiled happily. "We all expected it though. It's just something that happens."

It's a barbaric tradition, of course, juvenile and ridiculous, and a hundred times worse in this, the age of hair. Here is O. J. Simpson, running back nonpareil, millionaire-plus, scapled. The all-world draft choice making his pro debut against the world champion Jets on national television hairless, and the cruel camera zeroed in on the slick Simpson for most of the National Anthem plus a half-time interview.

Weird Assortment
It was the same for the other nine too, and they walked around the Bills' clubhouse wearing a weird assortment of caps that ran a giddy gamut from early bagpipe to Little Lord Fauntleroy. Maguire shed light on the scene: "You know it's hard to hustle a broad with a bald head. That's why the hats."

In the history of the Bills only the Hungarian kicker from Cornell, Pete Gogolak, raised such a hue and cry that the veterans didn't give him The Big Shave. Which was taken care of later by some of the rookies themselves, who hated to see a peer go unscathed.

"They're proud of it," said Paul Maguire, nodding at a young, hairless giant Julian Nunamaker (6-3, 250) skulking bashfully out the door into the bright afternoon and a horde of autograph hunters. Out in the sunshine, fullback Bill Enyart (6-4, 236), five o'clock shadow spread over his noggin, was looking as inconspicuous as he could surrounded by a hundred 10-year-olds four feet tall.

"You won't believe it but they're proud," said Maguire, "because it means they made the football team."

Joe Namath's best girl, Susie Storm, wasn't included in the Esquire article about Joe's loves because Joe said no, preferring to keep her under wraps. Susie herself, who is about to embark on a singing career, would have liked the publicity . . . The Mets are murdering the Yankees on the boob tube in New York. With the Giants and Yankees in Yankee Stadium the Bronx is down and the battery of Mets-Jets in Long Island is supercharged . . . Jerry Kramer is working on a new book, his third, which will examine the motivations of people, like Kramer, who thrive on competition. Co-author is no other than poet Rod McKuen.

The firing of Allie Sherman was horrendous, the worst case of spontaneous combustion in years of gridiron. Giant owner Wellington Mara said he was tired of losing, that the fans were tired of losing, and that he was the Giants' biggest fan. But that's exactly what exhibition games are for, losing, and Allie went through five practice games with most of his offensive linemen hurt and experimenting as much as possible. In that fifth, final loss against an inept Steeler team, Giant first stringers played little.

When he was looking for a successor among Allie's assistants Mara had no choice. Allie delegated little responsibility to his aides and so Mara chose the only one who might be able to bring the team together and motivate them, an old rah-rah fullback legend, Alex Webster. Fight onward, Giants, and the blackboard be damned.

To make such an emotional decision at six in the morning after losing an exhibition, and to make such an emotional choice for head coach — not bothering to look ahead and consider the consequences for this and next season — is unbelievable. Fran Tarkenton will end up running the team.

As for Mara, if he was going to fire Sherman he should have done it two years ago. Allie is a football brain, but he can't handle men, and the turnover of his coaching staff must be a 5-year record. But what timing, to get rid of Sherman just when the Giants are showing some kinds of life and are only a linebacker and a studidish pass rusher away from respectability. Of course Mara was really firing himself, because as the general manager who worked closely with Sherman, all those many Giants no-draft drafts (Don Davis, Francis Peay, Joe Don Looney, Jerry Hillebrand, etc., etc., etc.) and trade of veterans for nothing (Dick Modzelewski, Sam Huff), were the work of Mara and Sherman together.

As for Allie, he can play golf with Joe Kuharich and laugh.

One-Time Teammate

Jim Grabowski, dressing sweetly, soberly concurred with Cruise's estimate of the Bruins' defenders, particularly the bristling Butkus, a one-time teammate of the Packer fullback at the University of Illinois.

"They have a lot of other fine players. Doug Buffone is a good linebacker and (Ed) O'Bradovich is a fine end," Grabowski noted. "But Dick is the heart of the defense."

Grabowski, who faced the gifted Tommy Nobis in the Pack's pre-season finale last weekend, finds the Butkus and the far ranging Falcon equally imposing.

"They're both great linebackers — big, strong and quick," he said, "although Butkus does different things to a blocker. Nobis generally will throw a blocker out of the way and get into the play while Butkus sometimes will ignore the blocker. He's hard to hit. Dick is a super-great player. There's no getting away from it."

Packer Patter — Tuesday's practice was confined to running under the supervision of GM Coach Phil Bengtson, who then joined his assistant coaches and players for the annual acquainted fan luncheon at the Forum.

Unless they are able to get outside help suddenly, the Bears apparently will be going with newly acquired George Youngblood at strong side safety Sunday. . . Youngblood, released by the New Orleans Saints, joined the Bruins only last week. . . he would replace veteran Clendon Thomas, who was cut Monday after being repeatedly victimized by Cardinal tight end Jackie Smith last Friday night.

Belabored Cubs to Open Stand at Home

CHICAGO (AP) —It's home, sweet home for the belabored Chicago Cubs who now hope the friendly confines of Wrigley Field will be the needed tonic for a final title drive.

The Cubs got back to winning ways Tuesday with a 5-4 victory in Montreal and now have 13 games to play, 10 of them at home.

The Cubs open Wednesday with a two-game set against the Philadelphia Phillies and then engage the St. Louis Cardinals in a four - game series beginning with a doubleheader Friday.

They're off the following Monday before taking on Montreal for two games. Then it's on to Pittsburgh for a three game set Sept. 26-28 before returning home to close the season against the first place New York Mets Oct. 1-2.

Currently the Cubs are looking not to overtaking the New York Mets but to get within two games of the lead before the Met series. If the Mets hold more than a two game lead at that time, the race will be over.

The Cubs managed to strengthen their hopes Tuesday with their triumph over Montreal. Billy Williams got them started with a two-run homer in the first inning and Oscar Gamble put them ahead to stay in the third inning. The Cubs picked up two more in the fifth with Ron Santo driving in a run and Paul Popovich singling home what proved to be the winner.

A two-run homer by Mack Jones in the eighth drew the Expos within range but Phil Regan came onto the scene to help Billy Hands collect his 18th triumph against 13 losses.

If either series is not completed, the make-up game will be played Tuesday as part of a two-night doubleheader.

Reedsville Man Heads New 8-School Loop

BRILLION — A new conference, scheduled to begin operation during the 1970-71 school year, was established here Monday when area administrators met to discuss realignment as suggested by the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association (WIAA).

Charter members of the conference are Brillion, Denmark, Freedom, Hilbert, Mishicot, Reedsville, Valders and Wrightstown. The eight schools will compete in the interscholastic athletic program and music and forensic programs. Administrators express a mutual willingness to work together toward general educational improvement.

Named Chairman
Officers of the new conference elected here Monday are Robert Meissner, Reedsville, chairman; Douglas Davidson, Wrightstown, vice-chairman and Alvin Glaeser, Valders, secretary-treasurer. The executive committee and a representative from Mish-icot will begin work on the schedule of events for 1970-71. Lloyd Jostad, Brillion High School principal, was appointed chairman of the charter committee. Other members are James Renier, Denmark; J. R. Schwaller, Freedom and James Jacobson, Hilbert.

Student councils of the eight schools will conduct contests to name the new conference. Each school will submit a name. The executive committee and student council presidents will subsequently meet to determine the conference name.

Administrators from member schools decided Monday to submit Robert Sutter, superintendent at Wrightstown, as a nominee to the WIAA Advisory Council. Selection of this official will take place at the WIAA meeting in October.

An open letter to open minds:

"THAT COLD DAY IN THE PARK" is a film that has founded the critics. One calls it, "A first-rate exercise in astonishment that grows wilder and wilder." Another writes it off as "A piece of psycho-sexual nonsense." Some critics exhibit self-righteous outrage at the film's frank language and explicit sexual content. Others see these elements as totally pertinent to the story. Even the photography has created controversy. Quotes range from "brilliant" to "better suited for a TV commercial." One thing is certain. No one who has seen "THAT COLD DAY IN THE PARK" remains neutral.

To quote one well-known reviewer, "Intelligent controversy is likely to be of the kind that made BLOW-UP and 2001 more popular than after-dinner mints." "THAT COLD DAY IN THE PARK" is a motion picture you will not easily forget. And which group of critics you agree with is not important. Making up your own mind is.

Inmates Elected To Council After Racial Outbursts

By JACK SCHREIBMAN
SAN QUENTIN, Calif (AP)—Stern security is being coupled with a "soft approach"—use of a 32-man Inmate Council—as racial violence control measures inside San Quentin Prison.

Since April, three prisoners—two Negro, one white—have been slain by fellow convicts in racial outbursts at the big yellow fortress 20 miles north of San Francisco. A fourth convict, a Negro, also was slain. Officials said his death had no racial overtones but through a misunderstanding it triggered the subsequent violence.

Other convicts have been wounded.

Warden Louis S. Nelson blames the violence on hatreds "brought in from the streets by militant blacks and whites."

Nelson, "Big Red" to the 3,400 inmates of "Q," pinpoints about 100 prisoners—both black and white—as proven militants. For them, he has decreed Section B "the jail within a jail." They live in steel-gut solitary.

No More Wandering

Nelson also has ordered that no inmate may move in open areas inside the prison without a pass. Formerly, men not assigned to a duty could wander as they pleased inside certain areas. Extra guards now patrol points where convicts mix—such as dining rooms.

And for the first time in years, a general shakedown of inmates was held. For three days, prison factories were shut down and convicts kept in cell. Guards found about 50 deadly weapons, mostly knives.

The Inmate Council, or "cool it squad," as it is called, is designed to help spot and stop trouble.

"This is a touchy situation," says council member Robert Willis, 35, a Negro convicted of murder in Los Angeles. "For the present you might say the waters are calm. We form what we call 'climate control' and whenever we hear of a rumor, we track it down to its source, and when we find out there was nothing to it, we relay this information to the prison population."

State of Chaos

"There are inmates, black and white, who want to see this institution in a state of chaos, for what reason I don't know."

The racial breakdown is 50 per cent white, 32 per cent black, 16 per cent of Mexican extraction, and the rest of other races.

Nelson meets with an "executive council" of the "cool it squad" at least once a month. And daily he listens privately to inmates with gripes, although some guards term these "snivel sessions."

The council members, in addition to their attempts at keeping racial bitterness under control, handle all kinds of complaints from inmates—from canteen prices to "short time."

Men are eligible for the council through elections by inmates if they have "six months clean"—a spotless record of behavior for that period before elections.

San Quentin's current problems apparently started April 22 during a prison movie. Guards heard scuffling, saw shadow of inmates wrestling in the dark. When the lights were switched on, they found Jeff Cooper, a Negro doing time on a narcotics violation, dying from a knife wound.

"Racial Thing"

"There was nothing racial about the attack," says Associate Warden James W. Park.

"There had been an illicit transaction in which Cooper ended up owing somebody money. But it got out among the blacks that it was a racial thing."

Three days later, four whites were assaulted by two blacks in the education building. One man was stabbed, but nobody was killed.

Then, on April 28, while some 80 men milled about in the big lower exercise yard, Park recalled, "white extremists, neo-Nazis, some Hell's Angel" bent on retaliation lashed out with homemade knives. Negroes Floyd Neal and Calvin Bonner lay dead.

Gradually, prison routine edged back toward normal. But on June 11, about 10 Negroes retaliated simultaneously in different areas during an evening meal, Park said. Seven white men were stabbed, including convicted murderer Robert J. Adams, who died.

Park says society's ills—racial prejudices, the white and

Cairo Mayor, Police Chief Quit in Unrest

CAIRO, Ill. (AP)—Gunfire erupted in this racially torn Southern Illinois community today less than 12 hours after the city's mayor and police chief resigned in the wake of growing tensions. Police said there were no injuries.

Police said they did not return fire which came from the neighborhood around Pyramid Courts, a Negro housing development.

State police reported a burst of machine-gun fire first broke the early morning silence, followed in succession by small-arms fire and up to 16 rounds of tracer bullets fired into the air.

State police patrolled the neighborhood of the housing project but did not enter. The gunfire stopped 20 minutes after it began.

A new mayor and police chief took over a few hours earlier, and there was no indication the changes would lessen racial unrest and disorders which have plagued Cairo.

William Petersen resigned Monday after three months as police chief, declaring:

"When the people of the entire community, white and black, state they are going to arm themselves and take the law into their own hands, then I as a professional policeman cannot continue to head this police department."

He was joined in resigning by Mayor Lee Stenzel, who last week ordered a state of emergency and a ban on public assembly following skirmishes between whites and blacks over a Negro boycott of Cairo merchants.

Estimates of the Negro population in this community of 8,500 residents range from 40 to 50 per cent.

Antioch-Columbia will be primarily a means for enabling people to learn and test their learning in concrete situations.

The school offers the talents of its students, on a contractual basis, to local businesses. In addition to fulfilling the outside work requirement, this enables the students to help meet the cost of their education, which the school encourages.

Even if parents can afford the $4,500-$6,000 a year Keeton estimates it will cost students to attend Antioch-Columbia, they are encouraged to donate to the school's funds rather than directly support their children's education.

"Emotionally Crippled"

"We believe that many students are emotionally crippled today by their dependence upon their parents or others for tuition and support," Keeton said.

The on-the-job education also helps solve a classroom shortage in the new school, which is housed in a former mansion that more recently was a construction company office.

Housing for the 80 students and eight faculty members also is scarce in the recently developed city located midway between Washington, D.C., and Baltimore. The college has reserved 25 unfinished apartments for the students, but temporary quarters must be found until they are ready.

"The apartments are not on a hill somewhere. They are scattered throughout the community," explained Doug Douglas, a transfer student from Yellow Springs.

"That is another part of getting involved."

Reuss Favors Limiting Family

WASHINGTON (AP) — It would be a "patriotic and ethical goal" of American parents to limit their families to two children, Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., a father of four, said Monday.

He made the suggestion in summing up predictions by a panel of scientists who painted a dim view of a future clogged by uncontrolled population growth.

Four of the five scientists who testified before Reuss' House subcommittee on conservation and natural resources agreed it would be necessary to ask for limits on the size of families.

The experts predicted overwhelming pollution and a lack of land, food and resources in the next century.

Children's Theatre, Inc. Organized in Fox Cities

Mrs. Robert O'Boyle Elected President
Of Working 9-Member Board of Directors

BY JINGO
There's a new theatrical organization on the dramatic horizon in these parts — an exciting one officially named Children's Theatre, Inc. It's designed for adults — young adults as well as oldsters — interested in producing plays or other dramatic endeavors for the area's young fry.

Mrs. Robert F. O'Boyle, well known to Attic Theater fans and for her plays by and for children, is the new organization's president, elected Sunday at the group's organizational meeting. The O'Boyle home, 1321 Briarcliff Drive, will serve as Children's Theatre headquarters for the present.

Other officers elected are Jack Mills, vice president and new faces on old shows. Here is business manager; Mrs. James L. Parker, secretary, and Mrs. Daniel Dorchester, historian. All are from Appleton.

Haering Tech Director
Arno Haering, Appleton, has been named technical director and as such will be in charge of set design and construction as well as all the other backstage jobs that make a production go.

Every one of the founder-directors has experience of one sort or another in stage craft, or an allied art, either in acting, crew work, art work, or in some phase of theater such as make-up or properties.

Mrs. O'Boyle, with her extensive onstage, backstage and even offstage (as Attic Theatre president) experience, will be an asset to the new group. It really has been her dream from way back and she already has considerable experience in knowing what children like to see onstage as director of a theatre of and for children in Appleton's summer recreation program and another at UW Fox Valley.

Two members of the board in a way represent the Appleton Junior Women's Club, which has taken an active interest in the new theater. They are Mrs. Dorchester, who will work as production staff coordinator, and Mrs. Philip Schlichting, in charge of tickets and programs. The other directors and their working jobs are Mrs. Bernard Ritterbush, Kaukauna, make-up and properties; Mrs. Parker, Appleton, house manager; Pat Taylor, Appleton, publicity and promotion; Mrs. O'Boyle, costumes, and Appleton attorney Leon Jensen working as an adviser, ex-officio member of the board.

New Shows, Actors Make Their Debuts

BY TV SCOUT

Tonight's television fare marks both brand new series or new faces on old shows. Here is a sampling:

6:30-7:30 Channel 2-7 — Don't be too surprised if Dionne Warwork becomes one of the really big stars. She does everything and she does everything well, as you'll see tonight on "The Dionne Warwork Special—Souled Out. The lovely lady has made a reputation as a singer, but she also dances (that's how she started), plays the piano and guitar, does comedy and even competes with a guest, George Kirby, doing impressions.

In this area she tries a Kirby classic, Pearl Bailey. Her other guests tonight are Glen Campbell, composer Burt Bacharach and the Creedence Clearwater Revival.

6:30-8 Channel 5 — The Virginian's seasonal debut is marked by the introduction of a new regular, young Tim Matheson as wrangler Jim Horn. Leslie Neilson plays the two arrive at the Shiloh, taking temporary jobs there. When the older man loses the money the two had been saving to buy their own place, his young partner decides the Shiloh has more potential than more wandering and takes a permanent job.

7-7:30 Channel 11-9 — The Courtship of Eddie's Father stars Bill Bixby as still another TV widower. The rather simple constant effort of his young son, Eddie, fetchingly played by 6-year-old Brandon Cruz, to add romance to his father's life. In this opener, Eddie meets a star-struck young lady who has just arrived in Los Angeles. She is without a place to sleep, and the youngster soon has her home, to the consternation of his father and Mrs. Livingstone.

7:30-8 Channel 11-9 — Room 222, a new series concerned with an integrated high school. It stars Lloyd Haynes as a history teacher and Denise Nicholas, a guidance counselor, at the Walt Whitman High School. In the debut episode, a teen-ager is discovered to have falsified his registration to get into the school.

8-9 Channel 5 — The Kraft Music Hall doesn't actually return since it is the only regular series on the air today that does not take a summer hiatus. It does open the new season, however, with another good variety offering, hosted by Alan King and titled, "A Funny Thing Happened On the Way To September." Alan does his suburban spoofs and introduces guests Carol Lawrence, Tony winner Marian Mercer of "Promises, Promises" and the world's worst magician, Carl Ballantine.

9-10 Channel 5 — Then Came Bronson. Michael Parks stars as a San Francisco newspaper reporter who one day decides to chuck his job, climb on his motorcycle and start a nationwide tour. His purpose: try to discover what life is all about. The series will be shot on location in all parts of the country, starting tonight with Jackson, Wyo. In the first episode, he stops at a camp for disturbed children, takes a temporary job there and becomes attached to one youngster.

TV MOVIES

3:30 — Channel 5 — A touch of Treason (1963) Roger Hanin. French and Soviet agents seeking the return of stolen secret documents from Soviet Embassy in Paris combine forces and waste no time in ferreting out the leader and his gang.

Life-Saver Fails To Save Himself

HARTFORD, Vt. (AP) — Three days after he rescued two boys in a flaming auto crash in which four others died, Bernard Hamel, 21, of Concord, N.H., was killed in the crash of his car.

A highway department crew, attracted by a broken guardrail found Hamel's body and that of Darlene Merchant, 21, of White River Junction, in Hamel's wrecked car Tuesday.

Hamel was a construction worker employed in Vermont. Last Saturday, at Bow, N.H., near Concord, Hamel came along just as two cars collided head on and burst into flames. He pulled the two boys from the wreckage of one of the cars.

Morin's judgment is based on long professional and personal acquaintance with the general, and on a year's study and research; which included long conversations with him and with many of his associates and, best of all, access to his private letter files.

The result is a big book (8½ by 11 inches, 264 pages, more than 85 pictures in black and white and color, and a 140,000 word text.)

picture tube, has made the dots smaller and surrounded them with jet-black. This Zenith patented black-surround screen—together with precision electron beam tracking and increased light-transmission tube face—bring you a brighter color picture, greater definition and sharper detail than ever previously achieved in giant-screen color TV.

New Chromacolor Picture Tube

brings you a brighter color picture, with greater definition and sharper detail than ever achieved in giant-screen color TV before Chromacolor.

What Judgment Will History Pass on General Eisenhower?

Here is what Reiman Morin, two-time Pulitzer prize winner, says in the first full length, complete biography of the man:

"Eisenhower goes into history as one of the most popular of Presidents, in whom Americans recognized an earnest, kindly, sincere man of unquestionable integrity.

"As a politician he was almost unique in that he was wholly without the 'jugal instinct,' the urge to destroy an enemy; he was more prone to turn the other cheek.

"He also was one of the most selfless Presidents, less concerned with his popularity and the expedient actions that might enhance it than what he considered the well being of the United States and her allies.

Wes Parker Lauds Play of Ted Sizemore

Says Rookie Is Most Underrated Player on Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wes Parker had just driven in all of Los Angeles' runs in the second game of Tuesday night's doubleheader sweep of Cincinnati and the newsmen crowded around his locker to capture some of the drama.

But Wes threw them a curve. Instead of reciting his own heroics he tossed a pitch for Ted Sizemore, the Dodgers' National League rookie of the year candidate.

"You know," remarked Parker, "that Sizemore is the most underrated player on our ball club.

"The fans who only see him play now and then just don't fully appreciate what he means to this team.

Turned Game Around
"Like in this game. When he hustled that single into a double he turned the whole game around."

The sparkling little rookie had started off the 12th inning of the second game with his double and wound up scoring on Parker's bases-loaded single, Wes' third RBI of the game.

The Dodgers won it, 3-2, after edging Cincinnati in the first game, 2-1, to slip into second place in the NL West.

The Dodgers had to roar from behind in both games. They scored twice in the ninth inning of the opener to beat Gary Nolan. Parker's single capped an uphill climb in the second game.

And Jim Brewer was the winning pitcher in both games, squaring his season record at 6-6.

"That Nolan pitched a fantastic game in the first game," said Parker, who wound up scoring the winning run. "And so did Singer."

Bullet Bill Singer was shooting for his 20th win but, like teammate Claude Osteen the night before, failed to get it.

"The important thing is that we won," said Singer. "I want that no, 20, of course, but as long as we win I can't be too unhappy about it."

Cubs Defeat Expos, 5-4

Mets' magic number remained at 11.

Pittsburgh used a 13-hit attack including homers by Jose Pagan and Al Oliver to whip Philadelphia. Matty Alou tagged three hits and Bob Moose, 11-3, struck out 13 Phillies for the victory.

Johnny Callison homered for the Phillies.

VW guaranteed used cars.
No bugs.

The one thing our Fords, Dodges and Pontiacs don't have is bugs. Even our Bugs don't!

We make sure they don't by putting them through the VW 16-point inspection. You see, we figure that any cars tough enough to pass our tests deserve our

VW guarantee
It says should anything go wrong, we guarantee to replace or repair all major mechanical working parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles. Whichever comes first.
Here are some of our

Outright Suspension Not Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House sources express doubt that President Nixon's executive order on the draft will halt inductions, even temporarily, until congressional action is taken. Ziegler indicates such a suspension has been considered.

But he conceded the likelihood of such a suspension is slim. Ziegler did not indicate Tuesday when the executive order on the draft might come, but other sources said it would likely be at least a week or two.

The question of whether a temporary halt in inductions was being considered arose when Ziegler was asked if the President has "given any consideration to outright suspension of the draft for a brief period."

Ziegler responded: "That is a question that has been coming up from time to time."

Later in the questioning, Ziegler was again asked if the temporary halt "was one of the things that had been considered."

Ziegler then said: "Well, in discussion of this there are various considerations discussed and it covers a wide range of possibilities."

One source expressed surprise at speculation the draft might be suspended temporarily.

He said that although no final decisions have been made, the Nixon order is likely to be limited, unfair, arbitrary and capricious order to reform of administrative procedures such as establishing uniform criteria for handling of deferments by draft boards.

Earlier Tuesday, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the acting Senate Republican leader, said after a White House meeting that the present order of induction so younger men would be called first and to institute a random or lottery method of draft selection.

The basic draft law runs until June 30, 1971, and there is strong feeling on Capitol Hill that no new legislation will be passed much before then.

Ziegler told newsmen Tuesday that the factors being considered in service for draftees from 24 months to 18 months was introduced by Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio.

Young, a member of the Armed Services Committee, also called for reform of the draft system.

Laird Says Draft Calls Will be Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird announced today that draft calls for the months ahead will be reduced as a result of the new troop reduction in Vietnam and an over-all 20,000-man cutback in U.S. armed strength.

"The Vietnamization program will have a very substantial effect on programmed draft calls for the months ahead," Laird told a news conference.

The defense secretary said he will inform the Selective Service System Friday of the planned changes and will urge Congress that same day to enact reform legislation designed to remove inequities in the draft.

Although Laird refused to say how many calls would be cut, his words carried clear intent. Sources hinted the October draft call of 29,000 probably will be reduced.

Administration sources indicated meanwhile President Nixon still hopes he may be able to move before the end of the year to boost U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam to about 100,000 men.

Reviewed Again

Even as Laird prepared for today's public detailing of Nixon's order Tuesday withdrawing at least another 35,000 troops from the war zone by Dec. 15, the sources said the manpower situation would be reviewed again, presumably before 1970.

Laird disclosed the latest withdrawal from Vietnam will include the remainder of the 3rd Marine Division, leaving only one Marine division in the northernmost 1 Corps and shifting more responsibility to the South Vietnamese 1st Division.

The Marine slice of the new withdrawal will total 18,457 men, including support elements.

The Army will send 14,263 men home, including a brigade and support elements.

The Navy cut will total 5,239 men, including support elements and support units.

Added to 25,000 brought out during the summer, the new proposal will raise to transit development; unemployment; 60,000 the number of American men under rights revision and extension.

Mistakes Kill 9 Americans In S. Vietnam

Civilians Also Victims of Raid By U. S. Gunners

SAIGON (AP) — Nine Americans and seven Vietnamese were killed in Vietnam war accidents in the past four days, the U.S. Command announced today. Another 17 Vietnamese and 10 Americans were wounded in the incidents.

Most of the American casualties occurred Saturday. U.S. headquarters said eight men from the 1st Infantry Division were killed and 10 wounded when an explosive charge they were placing near an artillery base blew up.

The accident occurred 33 miles northwest of Saigon and is being investigated.

A U.S. Marine was killed Tuesday six miles south of the demilitarized zone when a helicopter rotor blade hit him. The helicopter was lifting a Marine patrol out after a brief fight.

The 24 South Vietnamese were killed or wounded in an American gunship attack Tuesday in the Mekong Delta about 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

Suspected Enemy

The U.S. helicopter gunships opened fire with rockets and machine guns on suspected enemy troops who turned out to be civilians 18 miles northwest of Bac Lien, a provincial capital.

U.S. headquarters said four men and three women were killed, and 12 men and five women were wounded.

"The incident is being investigated," a communiqué said.

The enemy forces supposed to be in the area were never located, and there was no fighting, spokesmen said.

Meanwhile, military sources said South Vietnamese troops will take over the entire defense of Saigon within the next 30 days, freeing a brigade of American paratroopers.

There was speculation that the 3rd Brigade of the 82nd Airborne Division would be among the 35,000 or more U.S. troops which President Nixon announced Tuesday would be withdrawn from Vietnam by Dec. 15.

Froehlich Won't Return to 'Wrong Side'

MILWAUKEE — Appleton has a wrong side of the tracks.

And, by his own admission, Assembly Speaker Harold Froehlich was brought up there.

This disclosure was made as he and Assemblyman Kenneth Merkel, R-Brookfield turned down an invitation to live, dine and shop with welfare recipients on a limited budget.

Froehlich said he was "brought up on the wrong side of the tracks" and is already familiar with problems of the needy.

The Assembly leader could not be reached this morning to explain where the "wrong side" was located, although city directories of the 1930s and early '40s listed his family as having resided in at least three locations on Appleton's northwest side.

Merkel's reaction to the offer by welfare recipients was, "If I want to be poor, I'll quit work."

The offer to spend Thursday and Friday in Milwaukee's Inner Core with needy families was presented to a Republican committee which Froehlich had set up to study urban problems.

The group is engaged in hearings concerning programs affected by a loss of funds which legislators eliminated from the 1969-71 state budget.

Committee members and Froehlich were asked by Jewish and Protestant women's groups to spend a day or more in Milwaukee's Inner Core to study "how the other side lives."

The program called for committee members to live in an Inner Core motel, dine with Negro and Mexican-American families, shop, and submit a report on their findings.

Three members of the group said they would consider the invitation. They are Assemblymen James Sensenbrenner, George Klicka and Elwin Tamms.

Merkel said his committee wasn't having much better success with its efforts to learn from industrialists about job opportunities for welfare recipients.

"I invited about two dozen large employers, and only one came," Merkel said.

Didn't Like 8-to-5 Job

Things 'Just Happened' For First Female Trooper

JUNEAU (AP) — Frances Jean Howard, a thoughtful, thoroughly feminine lass of 25, says she became Alaska's first female state trooper because she likes police work — not because she's out to prove anything.

"I'm not a barnstormer. I'm not a women's rights advocate," the blue-eyed brunette said. "It just sorta happened."

It started when Miss Howard, a trained dental technician, decided "there were different things I wanted to see that I couldn't see at an 8-5 job in a dental office," and she left Grants Pass, Ore., for Alaska.

Started Thinking

She got a job as a clerk typist with the Department of Public Safety in February 1968 and later began to think that there was a place in the department for a female trooper.

State regulations for state troopers don't mention that an officer has to be a man. And, Miss Howard, nicely built and tall, passed the 5-foot-9 minimum height requirement.

She also passed all the written and oral tests and on Sept. 8, Gov. Keith H. Miller announced Alaska had its first female state trooper.

On Sept. 29, she'll join 20 other new troopers in Sitka for the Alaska State Trooper Academy's eight-week training session.

Miss Howard is a little leary of the physical regimen at the academy.

Too Much Running

"They say you have to run a mile before breakfast," she said. "I can't even move in the morning before a cup of coffee."

A minor problem is the design of her uniform.

The department has despaired of putting this pretty girl—who looks just right in a blue flowered, mini-length dress with a big broad white collar — into a man-tailored shirt and tie.

"It looks pretty unfeminine," Fran said. The uniform style is still on the drawing board.

Pentagon Spending Critics Lose Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., and other critics of defense spending, sponsored the proposal to reduce the amount for the fiscal year 1970 from $100 billion to $90 billion. The proposal was defeated by a vote of 54-46 in the Senate.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, D-W.V., who introduced the proposal, said it was "a compromise between the need to reduce the deficit and the need to maintain our defense strength."

Cooper said the proposal would save $10 billion over the next five years, but would cost $2 billion more in the first year.

The Senate floor vote was 54-46, with McGovern's proposal losing by a margin of 12 votes.

Also awaiting a vote was a proposal to cut $1 billion from the fiscal year 1970 defense budget.

But the amendment did not compromise a version of a proposal to affect the total in the bill, which stands at just a shade below $20 billion after reductions on the Senate floor totaling $70.6 million.

End to Debate

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said he hoped these which was offered and withdrawn might mean an end to drawn in August, was to prevent Senate debate on the measure "the United States from moving which has been before the step by step into a new war." New Water Supply Might Have Been Found for Waupaca

Single Large Well, Two Small Sources Each Thought Capable Of Meeting Residents' Needs

WAUPACA — A report on the formerly owned by Gene Johnson search for a good supply of water for the City of Waupaca indicates that the hunt might be over.

Douglas Johnson, council president, explained to aldermen Tuesday that there now are two possibilities for a new supply. One is a well 1.7 miles south of the city on the Oro Jostle farm in the Town of Lind, which is capable of producing 1,500 gallons per minute. Water has been reached at 13 feet and extends to an 86 foot depth.

The alternative is two small wells in the southeast section of the city, each capable of producing from 400 to 500 gallons per minute.

If it is decided to use the single well, it would cost approximately $50,000 per mile to bring the water within the city limits, to two six-inch mains on Berlin and Park streets.

A special council meeting has been called for to discuss bids on water projects. This will include the construction of a loop to the Waupaca Foundry's No. 2 plant in the northeast part of the city, which will cost approximately $55,000.

Ald. Edsl Huntton (1st) was told the Center Street water main will be installed this fall. The city will have to bid the project, since city employees will be working on the Foundry loop.

In two public hearings before the council meeting, it was agreed that a sewer extension on Wesley street will be put in the 1970 budget.

Subdivision Extension

Sewer and water extensions were also approved in the River Terrace subdivision. Bid opening on that project will be Oct. 7.

One resident in the area, Mrs. Russell Polly arrived after the public hearing had closed. She objected to having to pay $7.50 per front for sewer and water on an 80 foot lot at the back of her property, plus $100 for the lateral.

The license committee approved an operating license for Clyde Nelson to sell malt beverages and liquor. He is the new owner of the BWJ Liquor Store.

are available in 1971 you can participate," he said. The city pays 25 per cent, the state 25 per cent and the federal government 50 per cent when these projects are approved.

Pollack also called attention to the fact that power lines along U.S. 10 are a hazard to transient aircraft using the Northwest-Southeast runway. "These cannot be seen at night," he said. It was suggested that Wisconsin Michigan Power Co be asked to mount warning red lights on the utility poles.

The council approved adding the cost of curbs and gutter at $2.20 per foot, for 280 feet on Sessions Street which was torn up in the laying of new water lines this summer. It will be added to the Faulks Bros. Construction Co. contract on Ninth Street.

Clintonville Voters Approve Project

Site Chosen for School Bus Garage

CLINTONVILLE — Electors of the joint school district here voted to purchase the Rohrer Estate property on Waupaca Street at a cost of $4,000 for a bus garage.

The decision was reached at a special meeting Tuesday night at the junior high school cafeteria. Approximately 35 persons attended the meeting.

Following a discussion of the several possible sites on which options had been obtained and the district-owned property north of Green Tree Road, the motion to buy the Rohrer land passed on a voice vote.

The board conducted a special meeting prior to the district meeting to discuss the sites, their advantages and disadvantages. The board did not present a recommendation, but did point out that the Waupaca Street site was the best one in relation to the distance necessary for the buses to travel as it is only three-tenths of a mile from the Longfellow School and the other sites to the north and east were more than a mile. Computing the distances for 20 buses, the board figured there would be a saving of about $3,500 a year with the Waupaca Street site.

Senior High Students

Senior high students are the first to be unloaded and the last to be loaded on the school buses as they have a longer day than the junior high, Longfellow and Rexford school pupils. The senior high school and Dellwood elementary are on the city's north side. The junior high, Longfellow and Rexford are in a complex along Eighth Street and S. Clinton Avenue.

Three Runaways From Milwaukee Held at Chilton

CHILTON — Three 16-year-old youths, runaways from St. Charles Home at Milwaukee, are being detained at the Calumet County jail for pick up by Milwaukee County authorities.

The three boys were apprehended on the Roman Schneider farm, route 3, Chilton, about 1/2 mile west of the city on U. S. 151. Calumet County authorities were called by Mrs. Schneider, who reported that one of the youths tried to steal the car parked in her driveway. They were apprehended about 1:30 p.m. when they walked out of a woods on the Schneider farm.

No Opposition

No citizen opposition was reported to this site as the residents in the area had been contacted as to their feelings if a garage was erected there.

The Smith property consisted of a half acre for $2,200 and the Richter property was 15 acres for $3,000. The Smith property is on the southeast side of the city, about eight-tenths of a mile from the Longfellow complex.

Several persons favored having the meeting adjourned until a future date to explore all possibilities for a site, but they were in the minority.

Norman Crook, chairman of the building and grounds committee, reported to the electors on the findings of the committee. Harland Kircher, chairman of the board of education, conducted the meeting.

Union Reaches Accord With Loots Firm

OSHKOSH — More than a year of bargaining ended Monday at the Friedrich Loots and Co., Inc., when the company and Local 139 Operating Engineers reached agreement on a three-year pact, retroactive to May 1, 1968.

The agreement calls for 1.85 per cent in hourly wage increases, plus additional fringe benefits for the 15-member work force at the material producing contractor.

The firm was among those struck July 29, 1968, by the Operating Engineers but workers returned to work soon after when company officials agreed to bargain separately from the Fox Valley Contractor Material Suppliers Association. The union still is struck against the other association members and bargaining is at a standstill.

A union spokesman said that Local 139 was requesting federal mediation recently when the company asked for another bargaining session at which the settlement was reached.

Man Siphons Gas; Fined, Jailed At New London

NEW LONDON — Richard D. Spoehr, 23, route 1, was fined and given a jail sentence after pleading guilty Tuesday in Municipal Justice Court to a charge of unlawful removal of property.

Justice O. W. Capener fined Spoehr $70 and costs and ordered a mandatory 10-day sentence in the Waupaca County jail. An additional 10 days is to be served if the fine isn't paid.

City police said they found Spoehr Monday night in the Grand Parking Lot in the process of siphoning gasoline from a parked car.

Brillion Adds Night Courses for Adults

BRILLION — Several new woodworking and welding facilities have been added to the evening classes for adults which begin here Sept. 29, according to Ken Konop, director.

Know Your Car, an auto mechanics class specifically designed to aid women in becoming better acquainted with their automobiles, will be offered Thursday nights. Included in the course to be taught at the Brillion Cooperative Vocational School by John Phillips, are tire care, lubrication, safety checks, gasoline, minor maintenance and buying tips.

Mrs. Sharon Van Dyck, who just completed a course in clothing construction in knit and stretch fabrics, will teach the same type of course here Tuesday.

A course in household maintenance will be taught by Roland Radtke Mondays. This practical course is geared to help solve do-it yourself problems and will be taught in the industrial arts shop at the high school. Available there are ties and basic hand tools for electrical and mechanical repairs.

A professional broker will teach a course in securities and investment on Tuesdays. The class will offer enrollees a chance to get a better insight into the workings of the financial world. Terminology and procedures in the sale of stocks and bonds and various philosophies of investment will be discussed.

Licensed automobile drivers can enroll in a driver education refresher course to be taught Wednesday by Earl Herring, high school driver education instructor. Driving habits, safety, new traffic situations, rules and attitudes of defensive driving will be discussed.

Other classes offered are beginning typing, basic machine mathematics, basic machine shop, knitting, arc and gas welding, reupholstery, machine reading, electrical fundamentals and beginners bridge.

Two New Locations

New London Gets Offer of More Fire Station Sites

NEW LONDON — Two more pieces of property were offered Tuesday as sites for a fire station.

The city council received an offer from Cleland Popke, 306 Division St., of his property for $20,000.

Mayor S. W. Krostue presented an offer from Roger Zaig and Clark Ingersoll to sell the Knapstein Brewery Property, located at Wolf River Avenue and Mill Street, for $25,000.

Popke's property was believed to be too small for a fire station. No comment was made on the Knapstein property, which has been rumored as a possible location for sometime.

Previous Offers

Previously United Methodist Church and McPeak Dairy had offered their property on Smith Street for sale at a combined price of $65,000.

In other business, the council learned that progress on plans for the U.S. 45 and State 54 urbanization are being stalled because of no indications on the financial status of the project.

The city is seeking state and federal assistance on the sanitary sewer portion of the project. However, an application to transfer all city projects into the jurisdiction of the department of housing and urban development (HUD) and eliminate consideration for Farmer's Home Administration assistance has not been received.

Mayor Krostue called a

November the Waupaca area will have a third source of electric power when it hooks up to the 69,000 volt line of Wisconsin Power and Light Co., three miles northwest of the city.

Wisconsin Public Service Corp. which provides current for the Waupaca area will bring Street substation, where transmits power into the Harrison Street substation, where transformers and switches will be installed, according to Paul Niles, Manager.

Workmen are now clearing the transmission line right of way. Switching to the source of electrical current during an outage is completed automatically from Green Bay. However, with the new switches at the Harrison Street substation, some manual switching will be possible.

Labor Endorses Fair Share Gifts

A resolution endorsing "fair share" giving to the United Fund campaign by all members was passed by the Appleton Federation of Labor Unions at its recent meeting.

The resolution, unanimously accepted by the members, supports the function and purpose of the United Fund, and recognizes the "social, health and welfare needs" of the community which are assisted by the annual drive.

Equalized Value Changed

State Tells Waupaca To Hold Reassessment

WAUPACA — There should be an over-all land reassessment in the City of Waupaca to bring the July assessment up to the new equalized valuation of real estate of $21,578,000 made by the state, the city council learned Tuesday.

Gerald Schultz, assessor, told the council that the previous $20,491,875 equalized valuation given in July was low. "It was 30 per cent of assessed value," based on our assessed valuation of $13,319,725, which we believed at that time to be 65 per cent of full value," Schultz said. "Now we learn that we were assessing at 61.2 per cent and this has to be changed to reach the plateau set by the state."

There are two trouble spots, according to Schultz. Land values have more than doubled since 1964, when the last change was made. A fully improved lot which sold for $1,200 in 1964 is now selling for $3,000 and one which sold for $1,500 now sells for $3,500. He told the council the reassessment will significantly correct inequities.

The second trouble spot is the low assessment of mercantile buildings. "I believed that they were accurately assessed, but the state tells me that these have to be increased from 25 to 30 per cent of assessed value," Schultz said that if he goes through with the recommended reassessment, he will ask the council to change future assessments to 100 per cent of value.

"If we get land value up, we can hold our own on the tax rate," Schultz assured them. "Taxes are already high enough. This inequity will be corrected when land values, which are five years behind at the going selling price, are made current."

A Bulldozer chews away at the east side of ski hill, three miles northwest of Waupaca, cutting an 80 foot right-of-way for the new 69,000 volt transmission line for the Wisconsin Power and Light Co. It will provide a three-way hook-up for power for the surrounding area. It will tie into the Harrison Street substation at Waupaca. (Post-Crescent Photo)

$3,000 Appropriated for Calumet County Libraries

CHILTON — The appropriation of $3,000 to be divided among the three libraries in the county was approved Tuesday by the county board.

Chilton, Brillion and New Holston libraries each will receive $1,000 so they will be able to extend use of the library to all county residents at the lowest cost.

Library hours will be extended to enable students to use the library after school libraries close. It also will enable rural families to use the library without additional fees.

Mrs. James Knauf, Chilton Library Board chairman, and Gaylord Unbehaun of the Brillion Library Board, as well as two members of the Calumet County Homemakers group who worked on this committee, spoke in support of the resolution.

Card Fee
Unbehaun said that Brillion had instituted a $2 fee per family for its rural users who he said, numbered 400 to 500. After the initiation of the card fee, circulation dropped to about 38 users. He said this approach is bad for the library and spoke in favor of the $1,000 appropriation.

Mrs. Knauf pointed out that the cost to the county would be greater if a state federated library system were to be used.

Also passed by the board was a resolution changing the courthouse business hours. Presently the hours are from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 8 a.m. until noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Fridays.

A general survey taken by the users of the courthouse indicated that little business is transacted in the offices after 3:30 on Friday, but that staying open an extra half hour during the week, until 4:30 p.m., would be of more help to the public. Opening hours are unchanged.

Gary's in England Again

Appleton's vagabond, Gary Lee Ahrens, is back on the "road" again and, unlike his last venture, he has successfully made it to Europe.

The young man gained national attention earlier this summer when he stowed away in the luggage compartment of a Pan American jet airliner from Chicago to London.

He was discovered when the plane landed in England and was returned to this country.

— tourist class. He is believed to be the only person to successfully stay away aboard a trans-Atlantic flight without being injured.

Now Ahrens is back in England. He travelled from New York to Southampton, England, aboard the liner S.S. France.

His report did not indicate whether his passage was in a stateroom or a life boat said he was now "exploring the countryside."

Flag Raisers for the first semester at Hortonville High School will be Tom Schumacher and Debbie Reimer. (Everts Photo)

Redemption of Savings Bonds Earl Paape Resigns Uo at Chilton

CHILTON — Redemption of U. S. Savings Bonds, series E, have been greater during the past six months than sales, according to authorities in the two banks here.

Sales at the Commercial Bank showed $12,287 for the six month period and redemptions totaled $22,511. The State Bank lists sales at $6,000 and redemptions at $58,000.

Authorities at both institutions said while interest rates are higher on other investments, bonds pay 4 1/2 per cent, they feel bonds are cashed in primarily for individual needs.

It was the consensus at both banks that the trend could reverse itself if the rate on bonds would increase to 5 per cent. Savings accounts in most banks are presently paying 3 1/2 per cent.

New London Vandals Break Glass in Garage, Vehicles on Weekend

New Math Teacher Hired at Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — The board of education at a special meeting Tuesday night accepted the resignation of Earl Paape as for the board, Association of mathematics instructor at the Commerce, and the teachers in junior high school.

Upon the recommendation of Supt. V. J. Wadleigh, the board approved the employment of Arthur Alwes, 33, Fish Creek, as his replacement.

Alwes is a 1954 graduate of Oshkosh State University with a bachelor of science degree. He taught at Johnson Creek until 1969. He took a summer fellowship to work on his master's degree, which ran until the first of September so he was not available until after school started. He has a double major in mathematics and physics. He served in the U.S. Army between 1955-57.

Released from Contract
Paape had asked to be released from his contract earlier this summer to enter into private business.

The board authorized a contract for Mrs. Shirley Essmann to teach a one-hour typing class daily for one semester. The class will be taught during the noon hour at the senior high school for students from Bear Creek and others who did not have the opportunity to take beginning typing last year.

Twenty-three students are expected to be in the class. An invitation was read to attend the picnic Monday night for the board, Association of mathematics instructor at the Commerce, and the teachers in junior high school.

Bids on fuel oil had been opened and tabulated but no action will be taken until the regular meeting of the board next Tuesday night.

It's Constitution Week

It was on Sept. 17, 1787, that 39 men representing the political leadership of the infant United States put their signatures to a proposed Constitution intended to make clear the relationships between the individual, the states, and the federal government and to replace the Articles of Confederation which had failed the new country in most respects.

With the subsequent adoption of 10 amendments which became known as the Bill of Rights, the Constitution became perhaps the most successful political document in man's search for the best manner in which to govern himself. Today, thus, marks the first day of the annual Constitution Week observance.

The genius of the Constitution is that it represented a compromise in many respects at the time of its writing. There was a recognition that times would change but there was also a dedication to the fact that some things must never change — certain rights of the individual in relation to his government and in relation to his fellow citizens being the most important of these.

The Constitution provided for an amending process, but one which cannot be swiftly used to reflect spur of the moment reforms or sudden accumulations of political power at the federal level. The Constitution's authors provided that amendments must gain the approval of two-thirds of the membership of the House and Senate and then be accepted by three-fourths of the states.

Interestingly enough, Constitution Week this year comes at a time when the House is engaged in the preliminary step in this amending process, consideration of proposals to abandon or change the electoral college system of electing the president. Such an amendment is needed and its adoption would again show the wisdom of the Founding Fathers in providing a means for governing procedures to change with the times.

In 1968, the United States had a close call with stalemate or possible inability to govern effectively in a world which requires a strong American chief executive representing the majority. It was the cynical intent of the George Wallace campaign to drain off enough electoral votes to prevent the candidates of the two national parties from obtaining a majority of the electoral votes. The House then would have chosen the president with each state having one vote regardless of population or how its people had voted in the election.

The plan before the House calls for direct election of the president by the voters to end any chance of an electoral college majority which does not represent what happened in the popular vote. Other plans would provide for run-off elections or a division of each state's electoral votes to reflect the popular vote.

Direct election is the best plan but, in any event, the Congress should produce an amendment for consideration of the states before the 1972 election. Such an amendment will again demonstrate the wisdom of those men who gathered in Philadelphia 182 years ago to write a document which has enabled the nation to meet all the challenges of time.

The Kosygin-Chou En Lai Meeting

The surprise meeting of Soviet Premier Aleksei Kosygin and China's Premier Chou En Lai may reduce the tensions between the two Communist nations although there seemed to be little agreement on the border dispute.

As far as can be determined, both Rumanian officials and the last testament of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh were responsible for breaking down the barriers to any meeting. The Rumanians have remained strictly neutral in the rift between Russia and China and were instrumental in defeating any sort of criticism or condemnation of the Peking regime at the Moscow conference of Communist party leaders last June. At a recent Rumanian party congress, President Nicolae Ceausescu recommended high level conferences between Soviet and Chinese officials to try to work out their differences amiably.

Apparently the Rumanians convinced Premier Kosygin first. But he had left Hanoi and had flown back to Russia before agreement came from the Chinese. And here it may have been Ho's testament that he was "deeply grieved at the dissensions that are dividing the fraternal parties," that was the deciding factor for the Chinese.

The meeting does raise fears once more of a monolithic communism which could successfully stay united in opposition to the rest of the world. But it has been apparent for some time that nationalism, rather than political ideology, is the current moving force in a great many countries, both Communist and non-Communist. The Soviet Union, through the force of arms, was able to deter Czechoslovakia from liberal reforms but even this threat has not cowed either Rumania or Yugoslavia. And the fact that Premier Kosygin apparently took the initiative in suggesting the meeting is some evidence that the Soviet leaders are opposed to any preventive war against China such as a strike against its nuclear installations.

Both premiers have reputations as practical men with some amount of diplomatic skill. China's agreement to the meeting may be a hopeful indication that the wilder elements of the Cultural Revolution are fading into the background.

As Secretary of State William Rogers pointed out some weeks ago, any war is dangerous and this is true even when Communist is fighting Communist. There probably was not much agreement reached in the brief hour long talk between Premiers Kosygin and Chou En Lai. But the fact that they met at all is hopeful.

Democracy — South Korean Style

The vote by South Korea's National Assembly to permit the nation's President to hold more than two terms is an incident that reflects the difference between our traditions of government and those of many Asian nations.

President Chung Hee Park seized power in a military coup eight years ago. However, his government worked toward a more democratic regime. A National Assembly was elected and many civil liberties restored.

But President Park and his followers believe that he is indispensable in office because of the rising belligerence of the North Koreans — or at least so they say. Parks party, the Democratic Republican, held a special meeting of the Assembly from which the opposition was barred, and approved a change in the constitution which would permit President Park to run for a third term.

It's a little hard for Americans to understand why President Park was so anxious for the constitutional change at this time. His term in office does not end until 1971. Fears that there would be a move for the amendment started student and left wing riots last spring and most of the big universities have been closed ever since. The opposition assemblymen smashed furniture and broke windows after they learned of the meeting. There are bound to be more demonstrations which play into the hands of the pro-Communists and the North Koreans.

But Korea has no tradition of true representative government. President Park's regime is not much like Western democracy but at least it is not as absolute as that in North Korea.

The Ben Hopkins, Sawyer and Jim Ross party that went to the Pacific coast several weeks ago acted very naughtily while at San Francisco.

The Churchman, of Milwaukee, reproves the sinners severely, and very properly. The only two Democrats of the party were much grieved at the event, and doubtless refused participation in the excursion.

Here is what the San Francisco Bulletin says.

"The commercial and business delegations which have lately come over to give us a jog in the right direction, may have beneficial on the whole, but we are not at present in need of any jog towards Sabbath-breaking, our home tendencies being strong enough without any help from abroad.

"The Wisconsin delegation chartered the steamer Whipple for an excursion around the Bay on Sunday last.

"We ask, 'Would these men have chartered a steamer at

'Everybody Wants to Move Into It, but Nobody Wants to Live in It.'

Taylor Writes

Only Hope in Middle East for Now Is to Keep Affairs Under Restraint

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR
Secretary of State William P. Rogers indicates a private conviction regarding Israel's alarming tank plunge and air follow-up across the Gulf of Suez in the largest attack since the 1967 Israel-Arab war.

Behind the scenes, Mr. Rogers appears convinced that such powerful assaults have a definable purpose.

He encloses this dramatic move entirely within the package of Israel's general strategy — the more or less established pattern of heavy air strikes against military placements on the Egyptian-held side of the Suez Canal, combined with commando raids deep inside Egypt. In total, these appear designed to prove to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser — and to the Soviet Union, which supports him — that Egypt cannot achieve a victorious war.

Viewing the crisis hopefully, the Israel purpose is to keep the Israel-Egypt explosive impasse locked into its present limited phase.

ISRAEL ON DEFENSIVE

Israel, however, badly needs diplomacy. It is not enough for Israel Foreign Minister Abba Eban to honestly lament what he has called in the impasse Egyptian Foreign Office have long been underestimated. You yourself have to experience them, as I have, to believe their finesse, their ice-cold intelligence, their subtlety and cunning, their capacity for intrigue behind a facade of wit — all bound up in a self-seeking package of smiles and bows.

VARIETY OF PITCHES

You also have to experience, as I have, President Nasser. He is an immense and endless talker, his gleaming eyes are a perfect biological surprise and his pitches to you come in all speeds and sizes — the wide-breaking curve, the tantalizing knuckler, the beanball, and the fast one saved principally for Israel.

Nasser is a total disaster. Yet he has reigned a full 17 years. In fact, he has outlasted four American Presidents. As my colleague and friend Richard Starnes has pointed out from Cairo, Nasser has survived two wars and two defeats; the United Arab Republic, which included Syria, broke up within three years after he created it; his Five-Year Plan is in total collapse; and economically and militarily a foreign power, Soviet Russia, has him captive. Moreover, to top off the Nasser catastrophe, his Egyptian population does not like the Russians.

In Cairo, either Interior Minister Sharawi Gomar, chief of Nasser's secret police, or Minister of State Amin Huwaydi is now usually whispered as Nasser's successor — a takeover that would rest on either man's backing by the army. But, as for the people's attitude toward the Jews, which goes beyond Nasser, it is significant that the nearly-uncontrollable student demonstrations in Egypt last year were for war against Israel, not peace.

Secretary of State Rogers seems to feel that what the Arabs call "Sira'a" — the holy struggle — will continue. The war has many manifestations. Newsworthy jolts like the Israeli tank assault are only the visible cap of the iceberg. Actually, the war comes down to 100 million Arabs against three million Jews. The single hope, as Mr. Rogers sees it, is to restrain it.

Taylor

"the very deeply submerged instincts bursting out of the depths of history." Diplomatically, Israel is clearly on the defensive.

This goes back as far as 1948 when Israel increased her territory in the Palestine war by 3,000 square miles more than the United Nations resolution of November 29, 1947, gave her. Then, in 1956, within five months after Britain's soldiers left Egypt, Israel confirmed every Arab suspicion by trying — with British and French support — to destroy Nasser. And when the British and French lost out in this 1956 Suez crisis, and their seizure of the canal never came to pass, only the Israelis achieved any part of their objectives — and held them.

Likewise, since the six-day 1967 war, Israel's policy has been to keep Syria's Golan Heights, which are now an Israel defense line instead of a Syrian attack line — but to keep the territory just the same — along with the Gaza Strip, much of the territory taken from Jordan, and also parts of the Sinai Peninsula.

Moreover, many a Catholic and other religious elements throughout the world are alienated by Israel's adamant refusal to negotiate regarding an Israeli-held Jerusalem. Nothing any religious group, any nation or the United Nations says about this appears to the world to make the slightest difference in Tel Aviv.

On the other hand, the professional diplomats of the Jewish Quote

On Wailing Wall
From 400 A.D.

JERUSALEM (AP) — A 1,500-year-old quote from the Bible has been discovered on the sacred Western (Wailing) Wall of the Great Jewish temple.

A leading Israeli archaeologist says it proves Jews lived and worshipped in Jerusalem in 400 A.D.

Prof. Benyamin Mazar, heading excavations around the temple walls, said the sentence was from Isaiah, Chapter 66, Verse 14:

"And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like an herb."

Mazar said the inscription was written at the time Jerusalem was ruled by Roman Emperor Julian, who permitted the Jews to rebuild part of the temple destroyed by an earlier Roman conqueror.

"The inscription proves we were there at that time, and that we longed for Jerusalem even then," Mazar said.

Most archaeological finds in the wall area so far have been of Moslem nature.

Several readers — who also, apparently, fancy themselves as writers — have objected to a recent column in which I remarked that, in 15 years, not a single manuscript submitted to me has shown any genuine merit.

"How can you tell from reading one manuscript," ask these readers, "whether the writer has any real talent or not?"

Sometimes it does not require a whole manuscript; a paragraph will do. Let me give you an example, in the way of a new novel which will not be published until fall. Here is the first paragraph as it appears in galley proof:

"The Northeast Trades, following in the wake of the morning sun, paused over the magic city of Honolulu as though loath to spend themselves on the barren islets far to the west. They came whistling down from the jagged fortress of the Pali, past deeply dissected ravines heavy with the early morning scent of azalea and frangipani. The sun peeped over the purple ridges and sent long shadows down into the streets of the fabulous city."

This might read like mighty fine description to the casual reader, but to the trained eye this opening paragraph reveals deep defects in style, approach and observation.

"In the wake of the morning sun" is the impossibly stale phrase. The "magic city" of Honolulu is bad writing — a writer's task is to make us feel the magic, not to name it. The same criticism applies to "fabulous city" later in the

Menominee Indians
Need Decisions More Than More Discourse

BY GEORGE KENOTE

MADISON — Running about, or around, something is literally discourse as the ancients meant it. The latter half of the 1900s and World War II interrupted life, brought new interrelations, taste for adventure, reason for inquiry, mobility, and opportunity for Indian America as never before. His constitutional, statutory, decisional, departmental regulation, but mostly administrative and bureaucratic opinion. If the latter is a hang-up, discourse becomes distractive and expensive.

Decision is the line of life. It must come timely from the top. Too many wait for total agreement from operatives below in a bureaucratic society. This can cause delay and be disastrous when things must be done.

George Kenote is perhaps the best known spokesman for his Indian people in Wisconsin and has been intimately involved in the struggle to build an independent community in new Menominee County in north central Wisconsin. The legislature is now deliberating the extension of the law which created the new county upon the termination of the status of the Menominees as wards of the federal government on what was until this decade a federal Indian reservation. He writes as a guest columnist in the absence of our vacationing Madison correspondent.

'KICKED OUT'

Uncle Sam kicked us (the Menominees) out in 1961. Wisconsin did not really want us. Other Indians have decisions and communities to make, yet here ours are more urgent. After years of discourse, Menominees came to a decision. We would pull our own bootstraps. We requested a county and have to make it work. We spent millions of our own to make sawmilling work, to devise a forestry practice to preserve the life blood for it. This was not (and cannot be) enough to serve and save the community for Indian posterity.

Thence, five more years of discourse, and finally decision. We would build Lakes of the Menominees, a bootstrap operation to raise white man's taxes. We fought ourselves to do it — we love the land like mother. We would use all the methods of the nature lover to preserve the beauty. We would use all the methods of the scientist and the pseudo-scientist to accommodate those who would not "injure a fern" even if it meant milk for Indian infants.

Someone called the Council for Preservation of Scientific Areas and someone calling himself God and Public Intervenor says "You do not own, and cannot proceed." Some who live and have reaped the harvest off lands that (historically) should be ours, say "You cannot touch that bit of water." Yet we preserved and kept it clean for centuries.

CONTRADICTIONS CONFUSING

The Upper Great Lakes Development Commission, the Northern States Conference on Land and People, the Lumberjack Resource Conservation and Development Project (which we helped to insure), the people of Wisconsin and the Menominee Indian Study Committee all attest the economic twilight of Menominee County. It is said recreation and tourism will save the north. The public agency contradictions are confusing.

I am suggesting a timely, considerate and favorable decision by the Department of Natural Resources, so that we can get the job done.

Discourse is for the leisure man.

Quality of Writing
Is Readily Apparent

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Several readers — who also, apparently, fancy themselves as writers — have objected to a recent column in which I remarked that, in 15 years, not a single manuscript submitted to me has shown any genuine merit.

"How can you tell from reading one manuscript," ask these readers, "whether the writer has any real talent or not?"

This is Hollywood-style writing.

"Loath" is a weak and archaic word to use in this context. "Deeply dissected ravines" is hasty, careless and unimaginative. "Azalea and frangipani" convey no scent to the person who does not already know what they smell like.

"The sun peeped over the purple ridges" is the sort of stenographic cliché with which Zane Grey peppered his action tales of the West; it does not belong in a serious novel. "Long shadows" is superfluous if the sun is over ridges and ravines.

Sometimes it does not require a whole manuscript; a paragraph will do. Let me give you an example, in the way of a new novel which will not be published until fall. Here is the first paragraph as it appears in galley proof:

"The Northeast Trades, following in the wake of the morning sun, paused over the magic city of Honolulu as though loath to spend themselves on the barren islets far to the west. They came whistling down from the jagged fortress of the Pali, past deeply dissected ravines heavy with the early morning scent of azalea and frangipani. The sun peeped over the purple ridges and sent long shadows down into the streets of the fabulous city."

All this may seem petty criticism, but a paragraph must be as closely knit and impeccably stitched as a sweater sleeve. Trifling errors in a single paragraph add up to huge botching in the finished product. The author's eye must be fresh and his hand sure, to make the difference between mediocrity and excellence.

This opening paragraph reveals deep defects in style, approach and observation.

"In the wake of the morning sun" is the impossibly stale phrase. The "magic city" of Honolulu is bad writing — a writer's task is to make us feel the magic, not to name it. The same criticism applies to "fabulous city" later in the

I have no need to read the rest of this novel to know that whatever the author's other merits may be, he is not a trained, professional observer with the precious gift of authenticity. Writing is a painful craft not a fuzzy aspiration.

Two-Month Strike Settled At Earl Litho Printing Co.

MENASHA — The Earl Litho ployes voted to accept it. The Printing Co. plant in Menasha, vote wasn't close but wasn't far," according to one source. The contract also reportedly includes a cost of living clause, on top of the regular wage increases, new retirement program starting at 60 years of age, a new educational program, plus better holiday and vacation clauses. There were also numerous language changes.

The base salary for most skilled workers at the plant before the new contract was negotiated was between $135 and $140 per week.

John Hornke, president of Local 88L, said "We're satisfied with it." William Zimmerman, union shop steward, echoed the same feeling.

Several Incidents The Local 88L strike that began on July 14 included several incidents of violence or near violence that threatened order on the picket lines at the plant several times.

Police were called to the scene on Aug. 15 and 19, and after a tomato and egg-throwing incident reported on Aug. 28. The most serious incident, involving strikers were not involved, came on Aug. 30 when Menasha patrolman James LaCount reported that he was jumped, robbed, beaten and a can of chemical Mace sprayed in his face while making rounds at the Litho plant early in the morning.

LaCount later admitted the report was a hoax, but not before the union and strikers at the Litho plant contributed $150 in contributions to a reward fund for anyone giving information leading to the arrest of those responsible for the incident.

A federal mediator was called into negotiations just four days after the 47 employees walked out, at the request of both union and management.

Kaukauna Youth Is Sentenced for Theft of Auto

Eugene Schmidt, 19, route 3, Kaukauna, was sentenced Tuesday afternoon to two years at the reformatory at Green Bay for taking a car without the owner's consent.

Schmidt, who earlier admitted taking a car Aug. 3 from Gustman Chevrolet-Oldsmobile Inc. lot at Kaukauna, also was given a six-month jail sentence for attempting to escape from custody to run concurrent with the prison sentence when he appeared before Judge Nick F. Schaefer, of Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

A Kaukauna police officer testified Sept. 3 that Schmidt took the 1964 auto and was to meet two other youths after the theft. However, he reportedly ditched it when approached by a squad car.

When Schmidt was being returned from the court appearance Sept. 3, he fled and was caught several blocks from the courthouse following a foot race.

Prisoner Falls From Bed at Jail, Receives Head, Back Injuries

A 29-year-old Appleton man awaiting a court appearance apparently fell from his Outagamie County jail upper bunk about 9:45 p.m. Monday and suffered head and back injuries.

Ronald Skenandore, 122½ S. Walnut St., was taken by the Appleton Fire Department rescue squad to St. Elizabeth Hospital. He complained of head and back injuries.

He had been arrested earlier that day in the 500 block of N. Appleton Street and was awaiting a court appearance. He is to be charged with public intoxication and destruction of property.

Teller, whose courtroom was to have been the scene of the inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne, 28, said he suspects souvenir hunters made off with the items.

Council Gets Request for Pay Increases

Kaukauna Employees Also Ask Payments For Retirement

KAUKAUNA — A request to the common council for a 50 cent hourly across-the-board pay increase and full payment of Wisconsin Retirement Fund as part of the city employees' labor agreement for 1970 was referred to the personnel committee Tuesday night.

The request was submitted by the union negotiator who requested a meeting be called to begin bargaining. The council also approved a recommendation that all personnel wanting salary adjustments make their desires known to the personnel committee by Oct. 1.

Ald. George Simon (3rd), announced this request to be relieved of duties as chairman of the personnel committee because other business prevents him from devoting full time to many negotiations. Simon said he thinks a chairman should be present for full sessions.

He suggested the vice chairman, Ald. James McDaniel, (3rd) be his successor. Other members of the committee agreed. Simon will continue to serve on the committee.

Approval was given to advertising for two new squad cars. Bids are to be in by 6:30 p.m. Oct. 1. Another $1,986.85 is to be included in the 1970 budget for a new motorcycle.

Police Chief William Nagel was instructed to make a study of a hazardous corner at Desnoyer Street and Wisconsin Avenue and make recommendations to the public protection and safety committee. Fire Chief Ted Smiths was authorized to study a better telephone system for the fire department.

Successors to Haen Appointed in Kaukauna

KAUKAUNA — The common council Tuesday night approved four appointments by Mayor Gilbert Anderson, two necessitated by the recent death of School Board President Victor Haen.

Edwin Dougherty was named to replace Haen on the board of appeals, to serve until March 1, 1970 and Joseph Steger Jr. was named school commissioner to serve until June 30, 1972. Steger has been a candidate for the board of education in previous elections.

James I. McFadden was reappointed to a three-year term on the utility commission, a post he has held for over 20 years and Thomas Verhagen was named a new member of the board of education in previous elections.

Ald. Lloyd Kloehn (2nd) and James McDaniel (3rd), voted against the appointment of Steger, indicating it was not clear how the position was to be filled and persons who had run for the office in previous elections may have requested appointment to the board if they were aware of procedure to follow.
